Melusine Perfect Library:

The Mélusine Romance in Medieval Europe Lydia Zeldenrust, 2020 Readers have long been fascinated by the enigmatic figure of Melusine a beautiful fairy woman cursed to transform into a half serpent once a week whose part monstrous sons are the ancestor of several European noble houses This study is the first to consider how this romance developed from a local legend to European bestseller analysing versions in French German Castilian Dutch and English It addresses questions on how to study medieval literature from a European perspective moving beyond national canons and reading Melusine's bodily mutability as a metaphor for how the romance itself moves and transforms across borders It also analyses key changes to the romance's content form and material presentation including its images and traces how the people who produced and consumed this romance shaped its international transmission and spread The author shows how Melusine's character is adapted within each local context while also uncovering previously unknown connections between the different branches of this multilingual tradition Moving beyond established paradigms of separate national traditions manuscript versus print and medieval versus Renaissance literature the book integrates literary analysis with art historical and book historical approaches LYDIA ZELDENRUST is a Leverhulme Early Career Fellow at the Department of English and Related Literature at the University of York
