Milan Kundera Slowness:

Slowness Milan Kundera, 2020-11-09 A heady existential tale of seduction and romance by the author of modern classic The Unbearable Lightness of Being An artist clearly one of the best to be found anywhere Salman Rushdie Kundera designs fictions of the highest order Ian McEwan Audacity wit and sheer brilliance New York Times Book Review In a French chateau on a midsummer's night two tales of seduction entwine separated in time by over two hundred years but united in their quest for sensual pleasure Through their romantic endeavors a contemporary holidaymaker and eighteenth century chevalier illustrate our era's obsession with the vulgar demon of speed and the phenomenon of the dancer Oscillating between the sublime and ridiculous the historic and the modern Kundera's first novel written in French is an enchanting libertine fantasy radiant with intelligence and wisdom The Ethics of Mobilities Sigurd Bergmann, Tore Sager, 2008 With this book the international academic discourse on mobility is taken a step further through the intertwined perspectives of different social sciences engineering and the humanities The Ethics of Mobilities builds upon the recent interest in social surveillance widening the theme to encompass a broad scale of questions ranging from freedom and escape to social exclusion and control thus raising important questions of ethics identity and metaphysics 'Slowness', 'Identity' and 'Ignorance' Tim Jones, 2012 Milan Kundera's Fiction Karen von Kunes, 2019-05-20 In Milan Kundera's Fiction A Critical Approach to Existential Betrayals Karen von Kunes traces Kundera's literary aspirations to a single episode in Czechoslovakia in the Stalinist era This moment attracted international attention when a 1950 police report was released in 2008 Reporters rushed to judgment accusing Kundera of denouncing Miroslav Dvořák to the police resulting in Dvořák's immediate arrest and sentencing to hard labor von Kunes debunks this shocking charge in a systematic way and argues that Kundera reported a suitcase not a man She ties Kundera's dominant themes of sex betrayal and political denouncement to the suitcase a fatal instrument that can lead to paradoxes and unforeseen and catastrophic coincidences for his characters Blending and the Study of Narrative Ralf Schneider, Marcus Hartner, 2012-10-30 The theory of Blending or Conceptual Integration proposed by Gilles Fauconnier and Marc Turner is one of most promising cognitive theories of meaning production It has been successfully applied to the analysis of poetic discourse and micro textual elements such as metaphor Prose narrative has so far received significantly less attention The present volume aims to remedy this situation Following an introductory discussion of the connections between narrative and the processes of blending the contributions demonstrate the range of applications of the theory to the study of narrative They cover issues such as time and space literary character and perspective genre story levels and fictional minds some chapters show how such phenomena as metalepsis counterfactual narration intermediality extended metaphors and suspense can be fruitfully studied from the vantage point of Conceptual Integration Working within a theoretical framework situated at the intersection of narratology and the cognitive sciences the book provides both fresh readings for individual literary and film narratives and new impulses for post classical narratology

A Jurisprudence of Movement Olivia Barr, 2016-02-22 Law moves whether we notice or not Set amongst a spatial turn in the humanities and jurisprudence more specifically this book calls for a greater attention to legal movement in both its technical and material forms Despite various ways the spatial turn has been taken up in legal thought questions of law movement and its materialities are too often overlooked This book addresses this oversight and it does so through an attention to the materialities of legal movement Paying attention to how law moves across different colonial and contemporary spaces this book reveals there is a problem with common law s place Primarily set in the postcolonial context of Australia although ranging beyond this nationalised topography both spatially and temporally this book argues movement is fundamental to the very terms of common law s existence How then might we move well Explored through examples of walking and burial this book responds to the challenge of how to live with a contemporary form of colonial legal inheritance by arguing we must take seriously the challenge of living with law and think more carefully about its spatial productions and place making activities Unsettling place this book returns the question of movement to jurisprudence Identity Milan Kundera, 2020-11-09 A philosophical masterpiece by the author of modern classic The Unbearable Lightness of Being An artist clearly one of the best to be found anywhere Salman Rushdie Kundera designs fictions of the highest order Ian McEwan Chantal awaits her partner in a hotel on the Normandy coast struggling to find him on a crowded beach After mistaking him for a stranger they reunite and she reveals her fears of men no longer turning to look at her Soon she begins to receive mysterious love letters which she hides in her underwear drawer but as the border between fantasy and reality blurs perhaps the secret correspondent is someone closer to her than she realises In this disquieting love story Kundera reveals our shifting perceptions of selfhood over time especially within the intimacy of a relationship and makes us question our own existence Tsai Ming-liang and a Cinema of Slowness Song Hwee Lim, 2014-01-31 This is the first dedicated study of all of Tsai Ming Liangs feature length films to date One of contemporary cinemas most distinctive filmmakers Tsais films are typically slow paced and minimalist in plot dialogue and characterization full of static long takes with very little happening within the shots Rather than provide a chronological survey of Tsais films the book is theorized through the concept of slowness It examines the two filmic elements sights and sound through detailed analysis of Tsais use of stillness and silence it also situates Tsais filmmaking in the context of a trend in contemporary cinema toward slowness by directors as diverse as Abbas Kiarostami Bela Tarr and Aleksandr Sokurov The author argues that slowness in cinema can be seen as a response to the increasing pace of mainstream films as well as to the unstoppable speed of a postmodern world compressed in time and space Canan Tolon: Loss Erdem Ceylan , 2022-06-01 Focusing on a single work from the Arter Collection in each title Arter Close Up Series offers an in depth look at Canan Tolon s work titled Loss 1988 2010 following Sarkis aylak Sokak written by Emre Baykal and David Tudor Composers Inside Electronics Inc John Driscoll and Phil Edelstein Rainforest V variation 3 by Melih Fereli The publication which also draws on the display of the installation as part of the group exhibition Precaution 03 06 2021 20 02 2022 curated by Emre Baykal at Arter features a comprehensive interpretive text written by Erdem Ceylan In her installation Loss Tolon gives another chance to her works that were damaged during the San Francisco Bay Area earthquake of 1989 suffered from shipping accidents due to improper packaging or were affected by inadequate storage conditions which render them worthless in terms of their market and exhibition value Adopting an experimental approach Ceylan explores Tolon's work in the form of an Ancient Greek tragedy by damaging and transforming the set of literary conventions peculiar to this form through a postmodern technique Proceeding with the dialogues of two characters Hephaistos and Daidalos who were locked in Arter overnight because the closing time of the exhibitions had passed but turned this state into an occasion to start a discussion on art and life the book provides a context that can convey the love hate relationship between the artistic ego seeking permanence and immortality and the alter ego which is at peace with life The third book of the series designed by Esen Karol includes installation photographs by flufoto Bar Aras and Elif Akrlar as well as close up images that interpret the idea of loss with more detail

Downtime Mark Goble, 2025-06-17 Slow motion has become perhaps the least special effect in film and media a stylistic technique for showing violence dream sequences and flashbacks or other experiences outside ordinary time We see so much slow motion on our screens today that we can look past its history and forget how rare it was before the 1960s when films such as The Wild Bunch Bonnie and Clyde and 2001 A Space Odyssey helped it explode in popularity at a moment of cultural change and social upheaval This ambitious book tells the story of slow motion tracing a broader fascination with the uneven speeds of modern life and our ability to comprehend them Downtime explores the history and aesthetics of slow motion from its origins in early film to its prominence today Mark Goble argues that the effect's sudden visibility after 1968 registers experience of modernity as a period of perpetual acceleration that somehow makes even the smallest intervals of time feel endless Ranging across literature art and cinema including novels by William Faulkner Don DeLillo and W G Sebald as well as Robert Smithson's Spiral Jetty and Julie Dash's Daughters of the Dust he describes how writers and filmmakers depict the velocities and durations of contemporary life Goble reveals the twentieth century and its aftermath as figured in slow motion rushing past and deliriously delayed everything going fast and slow at once Downtime is about time and its technologies in an accelerated world that can advance only in slow motion

Time, Technology and Narrative Form in Contemporary US Television Drama JP Kelly, 2017-10-09 This book examines how television has been transformed over the past twenty years by the introduction of new viewing technologies including DVDs DVRs and streaming services such as Netflix Hulu and Amazon Prime It shows that these platforms have profoundly altered the ways we access and watch television enabling viewers to pause rewind record and archive the once irreversible flow of broadcast TV JP Kelly argues that changes in the technological landscape of television has encouraged the production of narrative forms that both explore and embody new industrial temporalities Focusing on US television but also considering the role of TV within a global marketplace the author identifies three distinct narrative temporalities acceleration 24 Prison Break complexity Lost FlashForward and retrospection Mad Men Through industrial textual analysis of television shows this cross disciplinary study locates these narrative temporalities in their socio cultural contexts and examines connections between production distribution and narrative form in the contemporary television industry

The Literary Review, 1996 The Paris Review, 1996 Library Journal, 1996 Elle, 1996 Children of Silence Michael Wood, 1998 In this absorbing series of essays Michael Wood probes and plays with the dilemmas of twentieth century fiction the myth of lost paradise lost certainties the suspension between contrary ideals the lure of fantasy the quest for the silence beneath speech Wood's net is cast wide from fables to novels and he takes due account of personal and political context and of wider cultural and critical currents noting fiction's swerving resistance to history A superb essay on Roland Barthes is juxtaposed with a dissection of Beckett's prose comedy an investigation of three Cuban writers Cortazar Cabrera Infante and Arenas is followed by illuminating essays on Milan Kundera and Italo Calvino In the second half of the book the exploration of time form and fantasy and of the break with modernism continues in studies of Garcia Marquez Toni Morrison Angela Carter Kazuo Ishiguro Salman Rushdie Paul Auster and Jeanette Winterson Rich with pleasures spiked with insights provocative and satisfying this is one of the most exciting explorations of contemporary literature in recent years
