Amelia Bassett's Journal

A Mrs. Brown, - left Munich at 8:30 P.M., on 11th May, arriving at Vienna early next morning, should have arrived at 6:45, but train was an hour late. Both Party seems a wonderful place from the glimpse which I got of it from the train and the late I could walk through the streets. I failed to go very far from the station, as we had arrived late and could start as near the correct time as possible.

The impression I had was that we were leaving the West and entering the East; the most number of splendid bridges over the Danube, which is here of noble width and depth, took us among the traditions of Turkish rule.

We left in pretty good time, and soon after sighted a Klosterberg. There I stopped for the sight of the Hotel Royale. I had by chance, or rather happen, a chicken done up some way with red pepper, which was very good but thirsty. (Miss, get recipe for Miss.) I asked the waiter, and he said it was called "porko lard," and that, as it was a natural dish, I should be able to get it anywhere along the Carpations.

I found my number of German very useful here, indeed, I don't know how I should be able to get on without it.

Having had some time of no disposal when in London, I had visited the British Museum, and made search among the books and maps in the Library respecting Turkey, and it had struck me that some knowledge of the country could hardly fail to have some importance in dealing with a collection of that country.

Reading Engagement for Tweens and Teens Margaret K. Merga, 2018-12-01 Identifies evidence backed and easy to implement strategies for encouraging young people to read and helps you to position your library as an indispensable

Reading and Reader Development Judith Elkin, Briony Train, Debbie Denham, 2003 Reader development focuses on readers rather than reading skills The purposes of reader development are to enhance the reading experience to make it a more pleasurable and creative act for the reader to increase people's confidence in their reading and to make reading a more communal activity by bringing readers together to share their experiences The focus of reader development is pleasure reading which the authors interpret as reading fiction They observe that public libraries were not at the forefront of this movement but librarians are responding by changing library culture to focus on readers rather than books The ways in which librarians responded and additional responses they could undertake are described within the context of the broader social movements in the United Kingdom to promote reader development Three themes dominate the chapters First the authors tirelessly celebrate reading Reading is good Reading will make one happy Reading elevates The second theme is opportunism If society is paying attention to reading librarians should get on board and seize the opportunity to build their status and to secure the place of libraries as critically important institutions The third theme is social inclusiveness Librarians should always keep in mind the political dimensions of public library service and assure that all sectors of the populations share in the benefits of library service Readers in search of guidance concerning what librarians should do will find plenty of that here
