Work-Life Balance: Essential or Ephemeral? Andreas Schwingshackl, Stephanie A. Cormier, Kanwaljeet J. S. Anand, 2017-09-28 Burn out and suicide rates among physicians and scientists in academic medicine are at an all time high and jeopardize the future of our entire profession In the last 4 years alone burn out rates among physicians have increased by 25% In a recent 2017 Medscape publication burn out rates in Critical Care physicians ranked in 9th place and Pediatricians ranked 13th among 27 subspecialties Astonishingly over 50% of the participants reported burn out symptoms with clear race and gender disparities While men generally report higher burn out rates than women it is important to emphasize that response rates from women in these surveys were notoriously low and may not represent the complete picture These numbers are even more dismal for tenured academic faculty at research extensive universities In this group emotional exhaustion i e high burn out is reported at 35% with a clear association with age and lower burn out levels in the older tenured faculty While no gender or racial ethnic differences were found in this particular group higher levels of burn out were identified in individuals with financial responsibilities beyond a spouse and child While it is comforting to note the increasing public interest and research activities in this field successful approaches to ameliorate the burden and consequences of physician burn out are still inadequately developed Academic centers increasingly offer some type of work life balance program to their employees but unfortunately these programs are frequently adopted from corporate business models and remain largely ineffective in the academic environment It should be evident to most administrators that the stressors of academic clinicians and scientists substantially differ from those of corporate employees Based on these observations and over 75 years of combined experience in academic medicine amongst the three editors of this Research Topic we collected 26 manuscripts from 22 authors at different career stages and different genders ethnicities marital status and subspecialties to identify and stratify common and specific stressors and therapeutic approaches to ameliorate burn out and achieve work life balance in academic medicine We are confident that each reader will identify with at least one if not several of the authors opinions experiences and approaches to attain greater work life balance and thereby avoid the consequences of burn out in modern academic medicine The Principles and Practice of Yoga in Cardiovascular Medicine Indranill Basu-Ray,Darshan Mehta,2022-05-26 This is the world s first reference book covering the role of Yoga in Cardiovascular Diseases It details epidemiology physiology pathology prevention and management of cardiovascular diseases based on the current scientific understanding of Yoga Seventy five experts from four continents including the most notable names contributed to this work to create the world s first comprehensive reference literature on Yoga in cardiovascular medicine The chapters cover information related to Yoga both as prevention and therapy including coronary artery disease heart failure and arrhythmias In addition important cardiovascular topics like obesity and diabetes mellitus are also included A special chapter covers the role of Yoga in the prevention of cardiovascular complications in COVID 19 patients The Education of Girls in the United States Sara Annie Burstall,1894 Daily Life in the United States, 1920-1940 David E. Kyvig,2004-06-30 The twenties and thirties witnessed dramatic changes in American life increasing urbanization technological innovation cultural upheaval and economic disaster In this fascinating book the prize winning historian David E Kyvig describes everyday life in these decades when automobiles and home electricity became commonplace when radio and the movies became broadly popular The details of work life domestic life and leisure activities make engrossing reading and bring the era clearly into focus The United States Army and Navy Journal and Gazette of the Regular and Volunteer Forces ,1881 Daily Life in the United States, 1920-1939 David E. Kyvig,2001-11-30 During the 1920s and 1930s changes in the American population increasing urbanization and innovations in technology exerted major influences on the daily lives of ordinary people Explore how everyday living changed during these years when use of automobiles and home electrification first became commonplace when radio emerged and when cinema with the addition of sound became broadly popular Find out how worklife domestic life and leisure time activities were affected by these factors as well as by the politics of the time Details of matters such as the creation of the pickup truck the development of radio programming and the first mass use of cosmetics provide an enjoyable read that brings the period clearly into focus Centering its attention on the broad masses of the population this animated reference resource emphasizes the wide variety of experiences of people living through The Roaring Twenties and The Great Depression Readers will be surprised to discover that some of the assumptions we have about the lives of average Americans during these eras are historically inaccurate A final chapter provides a unique look at six American communities and gives a vivid sense of the diversity of American experience over the course of these tumultuous years Information Hotline U.S.A. Amy Sprecher Bly,Robert W.
