Natural Science 2014 Exam Grade 9 June:

Urban Green Spaces and Human Health Yuan Li, Diogo Guedes Vidal, Abdullah Akpınar, Ding Li, Hongxiao

Liu, 2024-06-12 An important aspect of sustainable and regenerative urban development is to improve collective well-being standards. The United Nations endorsed the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development in 2015, which establishes seventeen Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) to end poverty, protect the planet, and improve the lives and prospects of everyone everywhere by 2030. Urban Green Spaces have a significant impact on the living condition and public health, which are closely associated with several SDGs, including good health and well-being (SDG 3), clean water and sanitation (SDG 6), industry, innovation, and infrastructure (SDG 9), and sustainable cities and communities (SDG 11). Here, the concept of One Health gains high relevance by recognizing that interconnections among humans, animals, and environment is a key issue in public health and wellbeing that stimulates interdisciplinary collaborations to develop a more holistic understanding and effective action against public health threats.

Global Urban Agriculture Antoinette M. G. A. Winkler-Prins, 2017-05-24 There has been growing attention paid to urban agriculture worldwide because of its role in making cities more environmentally sustainable while also contributing to enhanced food access and social justice. This edited volume brings together current research and case studies concerning urban agriculture from both the Global North and the Global South. Its objective is to help bridge the long-standing divide between discussion of urban agriculture in the Global North and the Global South and to demonstrate that today there are greater areas of overlap than there are differences, both theoretically and substantively, and that research in either area can help inform research in the other. The book covers the nature of urban agriculture and how it supports livelihoods, provides ecosystem services, and community development. It also considers urban agriculture and social capital networks and agro-biodiversity conservation. Concepts such as sustainability, resilience, adaptation, and community, and the value of urban agriculture as a recreational resource are explored. It also examines quite fundamentally why people farm in the city and how urban agriculture can contribute to more sustainable cities in both the Global North and the Global South.

Oxford University Gazette University of Oxford, 1933 Biohacked Brandon J. Weichert, 2023-05-16 When COVID-19 erupted from Wuhan, China, under mysterious circumstances, the Communist Party of China covered up its existence for as long as possible. It is now apparent that there is more to COVID than what the authorities wish for us to know. Biohacked: China's Race to Control Life details the decades-long pursuit by the Chinese Communists to dominate the biotechnology industry to control the very building blocks of life on Earth to further their political control at home and their supremacy abroad. More appalling than the egregious cover-up that China's rulers engaged in with COVID-19 is the fact that Western scientists, pharmaceutical companies, and research labs have contributed to China's rapid and dangerous growth in the biotech industry so much so that China, not the United States, may become the seat of the biotechnology industry. The Chinese leadership believes that biotechnology is a critical industry for the Communist Party to achieve its China Dream of becoming the world's dominant superpower by 2049 In China's biotech sector truly macabre practices are being developed from ambitious cloning programs to the creation of potential pathogens that China's military plans to use in specific genetic attacks against Beijing's growing list of political enemies To stop the threat author Brandon J Weichert proposes the world's nations create a comprehensive set of treaties for regulating biotechnology research and development Further Weichert calls for Washington to slow the transfer of advanced biotechnology knowledge and funding from the United States to China using means like the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States CFIUS Unless an all of government and society approach is taken to curbing irresponsible biotech development in China then another deadlier COVID 19 like pandemic could be at hand
