Embracing Indigenous Knowledge in Science and Medical Teaching Mariana G. Hewson,2014-09-17 The focus of the book is on different ways of knowing the western scientific way reductionist dualistic and materialist versus the indigenous approach holistic non dualistic and spiritual It discusses both science and medicine in the context of the challenges experienced in introducing science and medicine into Africa through imperialism colonization and globalization It looks at selected indigenous African paradigms the dominant western paradigms and the practitioners that represent these practices The book deals with questions concerning compatibility and incompatibility of different ways of knowing and delves into epistemological stances and the assumptions underlying these epistemologies The volume investigates whether and how a person can accommodate different epistemologies and the nature of such accommodations

How Communities Build Stronger Schools A. Dodd,J. Konzal,2016-03-05 If it takes a village to raise a child Anne Wescott Dodd and Jean L Konzal feel that it takes a community to make a school Not content with the idea of a school being contained within four walls and existing only for a few hours every day Dodd and Konzal know that a school which looks after the complete child exists far beyond its four walls and for the whole 24 hours in each day They present a radical democratic vision of the public school where everyone not just students teachers and parents plays a part in shaping our children and consequently our future
