The Journal of the International Copyright Infringement Investigation John C. Compton, 2022-08-15 Many authors, publishers, songwriters and producers of films are now being deprived and systematically robbed of their royalties and copyright licence fees by unscrupulous internet organizations who have circumnavigated the existing international copyright laws by technically manipulating the internet protocols of their transmission and distribution servers. This journal shows the extent of how one well known and respected international corporate company has created their own network of affiliated e-book organizations. It has permitted their affiliated domain website owners to gain access to their secretive digitized library so that they can transmit and distribute to their subscribing members full copies of my Industry Jakob Weinrich, 2013-10-01. Essay from the year 2012 in the subject Law Media Multimedia Law Copyright grade 2 King's College London language English abstract. This essay is focused on the unauthorized digital exploitation of copyrighted works and the enforcement options for rights holders. Therefore it will be examined what kind of measures are available at the judicative and the legislative stage. In particular the essay refers to the unauthorised exploitation of music within the Internet. After an introduction into the topic of digital piracy and music a brief historical overview gives an insight of certain technologies that were found to be infringing. Further contemporary forms of digital piracy are explained as the peer to peer networks which are a major threat to the industry. On the example of important cases of music piracy it will be shown how courts struggled with that topic. As this essay is mainly focused on the UK the cases of Newzbin and Newzbin2 will be examined in detail as those show important developments in both subsuming online piracy and enforcement. The legislative perspective will be examined on the example of three strike laws which provide the so called graduate response an alternative way to litigation. It will be demonstrated on the examples of the UK's Digital Economy Act and the French HADOPI law what new measures are provided and how they are operated. This will be followed by a conclusion containing the personal opinion of the author.
