correspondence garden plans travelogues watercolors and drawings The Science of Describing reconstructs the evolution of this discipline of description through four generations of naturalists In the late fifteenth and early sixteenth centuries naturalists focused on understanding ancient and medieval descriptions of the natural world but by the mid sixteenth century naturalists turned toward distinguishing and cataloguing new plant and animal species To do so they developed new techniques of observing and recording created botanical gardens and herbaria and exchanged correspondence and specimens within an international community By the early seventeenth century naturalists began the daunting task of sorting
