Measuring Police Subcultural Perceptions Zheng Chen, 2015-11-21 Using survey data collected from 382 Chinese police officers training in a Chinese police university this research is the first empirical study to describe Chinese police perceptions of subcultural topics including the role of crime fighting and community service cynicism isolation solidarity receptivity to change and traditionalism This book describes the research method adopted in this study and the findings together with comparisons with Western police cultural studies In addition it covers an extensive review of Chinese policing history and evolution of policing strategies and a review of police subcultural themes and their potential determinants on the basis of Western studies making it both beneficial and of interest for researchers and practitioners who would like to know more about contemporary policing in China This book provides readers with insights into a little investigated area of policing the perceptions of Chinese frontline police It also makes it easy to compare the similarities and differences between police perceptions in China and the West Applied Research on Policing for Police Angelo G. Constantinou, 2021-08-12 This brief discusses a series of empirical studies on policing in Cyprus applying research to practice It discusses police culture and tactics and addresses politicized policing Using primary data based on both quantitative and qualitative studies on the day to day issues of front line policing in Cyprus this volume will be of interest to academics researchers and practitioners interested in comparative international policing evidence based policing and contextualization of policing in Cyprus

Higher Education and Police Colin Rogers, Bernhard Frevel, 2018-02-14 This edited collection is concerned with the ideas challenges demands and framework of conditions behind police education from an international perspective Whilst not directly concerned with a classical comparison of education concepts from different countries the broad range of international contributors consider issues such as professionalization programmes how higher education programmes influence police organizations as well how higher education influences police practice in a global context Examining a wide array of countries from Germany to China and Brazil to show the flawed nature of an education system based purely upon an approach concerned with police officer numbers the editors of this book argue for the need for greater scientific education among police around the world to meet contemporary developments A timely and well informed study this book meets a crucial gap in the literature and will serve as an important contribution to existing work on policing crime prevention and theoretical criminology Women Policing across the Globe Cara Rabe-Hemp, Venessa Garcia, 2019-10-16 Women

Policing across the Globe provides a cross cultural comparison of the integration of women in policing across the globe paying special attention to the unique contributions that women make to the field along with the shared challenges and resistance they face Individual chapters within the book provide students with a snapshot of the status of women in modern police agencies in the countries of the United States Kuwait China the United Kingdom Australia the United Arab Emirates and Taiwan However shared issues and successes of women police in many more countries worldwide are discussed

throughout the entire book This book allows students to explore the different origins of entry specialized roles their experiences of resistance and effects of historical events that have shaped the experiences of modern women police from across the world The authors discuss the new gains women are making despite the obstacles they face and ways they are transforming how policing is done every day And finally this book closes with collective issues and successes faced by women police worldwide

Women Police in Contemporary China Anqi Shen,2021-11-11 This is the first book to look at women in policing in the mainland of the People s Republic of China Informed by empirical data as well as rich secondary information drawn from a wide range of published materials and written by a former police officer in China this book offers a detailed discussion of key issues concerning women in the Chinese police Mainly drawing on face to face interviews with police officers and student probationers in multiple force areas Women Police in Contemporary China offers rich insights into women s lives in Chinese policing The book first discusses how Chinese women were introduced to the male only organisation and their representation in the Chinese police today It elaborates women s experiences as female officers in the police and more specifically their everyday work contributions to policing women police s own perceptions of their roles and positions in the police profession and the gendered challenges and concerns facing them It also looks at police occupational culture from a gendered lens This book is illuminating reading for all those engaged in policing studies gender and justice policymaking comparative criminal justice and all those interested in a woman s role in the Chinese police

An Examination of Police Culture and Its Effects on Patrol Officers Attitudes Towards Restorative Justice Braeden Broschuk,2020 The purpose of this research is to examine the relationship between restorative justice and police culture and the level to which this culture acts as barrier to the successful implementation and use of restorative justice by frontline police officers Using a multi level work group framework frontline officer s attitudes and understanding of restorative justice and police culture beliefs are examined and then their impact on frontline police work is assessed. This study employs an explanatory sequential mixed methods design and is conducted in two phases. The initial quantitative phase involved distributing a Likert style survey to frontline officers to measure their attitudes and understanding of restorative justice and police culture variables. After analysis of the initial quantitative findings, semi-structured interview questions were developed building on these findings to provide for a more in-depth qualitative analysis. Results indicate that police culture variables such as solidarity, teamwork, crime fighting, and tough on crime attitudes are still persistent in policing, but frontline officers are generally accepting of restorative justice and believe that it has a place in their frontline work as a dispositional tool. Findings indicate, however, that officers perceive restorative justice as another option only for less serious crimes and low risk offenders and not as a new method of managing offender activity. Restorative justice is not being used to its fullest potential. To increase use of RJ diversion, more thorough training, specialist designations, and supervisory and middle management direction is recommended.
