Microsociology Discourse Emotion And Social Structure

Thomas J. Scheff

Microsociology Discourse Emotion And Social Structure:

Microsociology Thomas J. Scheff, 1990 Moving beyond the traditional boundaries of sociological investigation Thomas J. Scheff brings together the study of communication and the social psychology of emotions to explore the microworld of thoughts feelings and moods Drawing on strikingly diverse and rich sources the findings of artificial intelligence and cognitive science and examples from literary dialogues and psychiatric interviews Scheff provides an inventive account of the nature of social life and a theory of motivation that brilliantly accounts for the immense complexity involved in understanding even the most routine conversation A major contribution to some central debates in social theory at the present time What Thomas Scheff seeks to develop is essentially a quite novel account of the nature of social life its relation to language and human reflexivity in which he insists upon the importance of a theory of emotion A work of true originality and jolting impact Microsociology is of exceptional interest which bears witness to the very creativity which it puts at the center of human social contact Anthony Giddens from the Foreword Scheff provides a rich theory that can easily generate further exploration And he drives home the message that sociological work on interaction social bonds and society cannot ignore human emotionality Candace Clark American Journal of Sociology This outstanding and ground breaking little volume contains a wealth of original ideas that bring together many insights concerning the relationship of emotion to motivation in a wide variety of social settings It is strongly recommended to all serious students of emotion of society and of human nature Melvin R Lansky American Journal of Psychiatry Emotions, the Social Bond, and Human Reality Thomas J. Scheff, 1997-09-04 This book first published in 1997 offers an approach to researching human behavior relating details of interaction to social structure

Emotion, Social Theory, and Social Structure J. M. Barbalet, 2001-09-06 Emotion Social Theory and Social Structure takes sociology in a new direction It examines key aspects of social structure by using a fresh understanding of emotions categories Through that synthesis emerge new perspectives on rationality class structure social action conformity basic rights and social change As well as giving an innovative view of social processes J M Barbalet's study also reveals unappreciated aspects of emotions by considering fear resentment vengefulness shame and confidence in the context of social structure While much has been written on the social consequences of excessive or pathological emotions this book demonstrates the centrality of emotions to routine operations of social interaction Dr Barbalet also re evaluates the nature of social theory for once the importance of emotions to social processes becomes clear the intellectual constitution of sociology and therefore its history must be rethought

Handbook of the Sociology of Emotions Jan Stets, Jonathan H. Turner, 2007-02-25 For almost thirty years sociologists have increasingly theorized about and conducted research on human emotions Surprisingly it was not until the 1970s that the sociology of emotions emerged as a coherent field of inquiry What makes this late date surprising is that it is now obvious that human behavior interaction and organization are driven by emotions It was an immense oversight for emotions to be de emphasized in sociological theorizing and research for most of its 175 year history Since the 1970s however the study of emotions has accelerated and is now at the forefront of sociological analysis This book is designed to bring the reader up to date on the theory and research traditions that have proliferated in the analysis of human emotions Key figures who have carried the sociology of emotions to its current level of prominence review their own work and the work of others who have made contributions to a particular approach to the study of emotions The outcome is a comprehensive book that serves as a primer on the cutting edge of sociological work in what is obviously a key dynamic in human affairs The first section of the book addresses the range of emotions and how they can be classified the neurological underpinnings of emotions and the effect of gender on emotions The second section reviews the prominent sociological theories of emotions including theories emphasizing power and status rituals identity and self psychoanalytic dynamics exchange expectation states and evolution While there is little integration among these theories this state of affairs will not last forever The third section addresses theory and research on specific emotions such as love jealousy and envy empathy sympathy anger grief and the moral emotions While this list does not exhaust the range of human feeling they are central emotions that drive human behavior interaction and social organization The last section explores how the study of emotions has added new insight into other subfields within sociology such as the study of the workplace health and social movements These chapters illustrate how the sociology of emotions can provide new research and theory for the large numbers of specialties within sociology Although no book can completely cover a field even a relatively new one like the sociology of emotions this Handbook of the Sociology of Emotions comes close to being comprehensive The reader will come away with a greater appreciation for how far the sociology of emotions has developed and prospered over the last thirty years

Methods of Exploring Emotions Helena Flam, Jochen Kleres, 2015-03-24 Gathering scholars from different disciplines this book is the first on how to study emotions using sociological historical linguistic anthropological psychological cultural and mixed approaches Bringing together the emerging lines of inquiry it lays foundations for an overdue methodological debate The volume offers entrancing short essays richly illustrated with examples and anecdotes that provide basic knowledge about how to pursue emotions in texts interviews observations spoken language visuals historical documents and surveys The contributors are respectful of those being researched and are mindful of the effects of their own feelings on the conclusions The book thus touches upon the ethics of research in vivid first person accounts Methods are notoriously difficult to teach this collection fills the gap between dry methods books and students need to know more about the actual research practice

Affective Communities in World Politics Emma Hutchison, 2016-03-11 A systematic examination of emotions and world politics showing how emotions underpin political agency and collective action after trauma

An Examination of the Relationship Between Emotional Intelligence, Leadership Style and Perceived Leadership Effectiveness Lisa Ann Weinberger, 2003

Interpersonal Communication: Forming and maintaining relationships John Augustine Daly, Mark L. Knapp, 2010 Interpersonal communication is inexorable irrevocable complex and relative but ultimately necessary Understanding this type of communication gives us a framework for successful and effective interaction with others in everyday situations In this multivolume reference collection subject specialists Mark L Knapp and John A Daly explore the dimensions dynamics and implications of interpersonal communication Volume I covers the history and status of the field to various communicator characteristics

Intercultural Communication Competence Richard L. Wiseman, Jolene Koester, 1993-02

Published in cooperation with the Speech Communication Association Division on International and Intercultural Communication The editors should be commended as the volume presents the latest thinking and research from scholars within the intercultural field and more broadly from the speech communication discipline For those interested in learning more about various communication based theories and approaches to the study of intercultural competence I highly recommend they take a close look at this book I found the introductory chapter by Koester Wiseman and Sanders extremely valuable in integrating the various perspectives represented by the authors Their discussion of the starting points for the study of the intercultural communication competence was very well written Part I focused on conceptual issues and it includes an excellent review article by Judith Martin about the various approaches taken in the study of intercultural communication competence William Gudykunst's anxiety uncertainty management chapter is perhaps the clearest and most practical extension to date of his extensive theoretical research program on uncertainty and anxiety reduction processes It is tightly written with examples and elaborated explanations of key constructs that relate to intercultural effectiveness I found this chapter Myron Lustig and Brian Spitzberg's methodological concerns relevant to the study of intercultural communication competence to be one of the most targeted analyses of research methods for examining communication competence within the distinctly different intercultural arena This chapter provides a blueprint for research design decision making on studying the difficult phenomenon of intercultural communication competence Donal Carbaugh's ethnographic approach for identifying the verbal means and meanings in social interaction is exciting creative insightful and practical I highly recommend Intercultural Communication Competence for a graduate level theory course in intercultural communication and more generally for any course that focuses on cross cultural interaction Further this book would be a welcome addition for a graduate level intercultural research course Overall Wiseman and Koester have edited a high quality intercultural book that focuses on a complex communication phenomenon I urge anyone interested in this important topic to read Intercultural Communication Competence Mitchell R Hammer The American University International Journal of Intercultural Relations Contemporary societies have witnessed the greatest migration of human populations in recorded history Accordingly interactions among citizens of these societies are becoming increasingly intercultural By gathering the most current research theories and methods from the leading scholars in the field Intercultural Communication Competence is the state of the art study on intercultural communication competence and effectiveness Part I analyzes the conceptual decisions made in intercultural communication competence research by examining decisions regarding conceptualization operationalization research design and sampling In Part Two the contributors present four different theoretical orientations while illustrating how each person s theoretical bias directs the focus of research The essays in the final section examine both qualitative and quantitative approaches to intercultural communication competence research With exemplary conceptual and empirical studies scholars researchers teachers and students alike will find a wealth of information in this tightly edited book

When Women Wage War Jocelyn S. Viterna, 2003 Practicing Creative Democracy Rebecca S. Krantz, 2003 Language and Gender in the Military Edith A. Disler, 2008 In the thirty year history of the study of language and gender theory and application have branched incrementally like the reaches of a family tree The study of language and gender has progressed from an eye opening review of differences between the language of women and men to observations that language served to preserve domination of one sex over another and on to a cross cultural approach which observes that the ritual styles of talk that are observed among even the youngest girls and boys at play remain with them as women and men Language and gender has been studied in many institutional and organizational environments including medical legal law enforcement academic and business settings While all of those settings have historically been marked by gender based differentials in opportunity pay and power one of the most metaphorically and demographically gender differentiated institutions has remained unexamined in the sociolinguistic literature the military The military is particularly interesting for linguistic study because it is veritably synonymous with the socio cultural construction of American masculinity and therefore a fascinating venue for the study of language gender and power With this innovative study the author opens the door to considerations of power gender dynamics and language and ideology in a community that has not yet been studied using the techniques of discourse analysis And while some have criticized the utility of examining outlying cases particularly in studies of gender or sexuality in language the military community though not studied can hardly be considered an outlying case On the contrary American military identity is part of American identity in that it influences the American masculine construct and has affected 26 million veterans and their families as well as those who may not be in the military but work with and near military members and installations on a regular basis Also unique to this study and the author s analysis of the usage of ma am and sir is an approach which does not necessarily examine how women and men use language but how those in their community use language to address them as women and men This landmark book provides a refreshing perspective on gender and language dynamics in a setting not yet examined Language and Gender in the Military will be a vital resource for those in gender and language studies Murder, the Media, and the Politics of Public Feelings Jennifer Petersen, 2011 In 1998 the horrific murders of Matthew Shepard a gay man living in Laramie Wyoming and James Byrd Jr an African American man dragged to his death in Jasper Texas provoked a passionate public outrage The intense media coverage of the murders made moments of violence based in racism and homophobia highly visible which eventually led to the passage of The Matthew Shepard and James Byrd Jr Hate Crimes Prevention Act in 2009 The role the media played in cultivating shaping and directing the collective emotional response toward these crimes is the subject of this gripping new book by Jennifer Petersen Tracing the emotional exchange from news stories to the creation of law Petersen calls for an approach to media and democratic politics that takes into account the role of affect in the political and legal life of the nation Journal of Personality Robert Saudek, Charles Spearman, Karl Edward Zener, 1998 Publishes scientific investigations in the field of personality It focuses particularly on personality and behavior dynamics personality development and individual differences in the cognitive affective and interpersonal domains The journal reflects and stimulates interest in the growth of new theoretical and methodological approaches in personality psychology Adolescence , 2000 Burglars on the Job Richard Wright, Scott H. Decker, 1994 A look inside the minds of more than 100 active burglars International Journal of Sociology of the Family , 1997
