Mitochondrial Dna Mutations In Aging Disease And Cancer:

Mitochondrial DNA Mutations in Aging, Disease and Cancer Keshav K. Singh, 2013-03-09 Many human genetic diseases associated with blood brain colon ear eye heart kidney liver muscle and pancreas are caused by mutations in mitochondrial DNA. Mutations in DNA can result in defects of the electron transport complexes intermediates of the tricarboxylic acid cycle and substrate transport. The clinical manifestation of these diseases often involves muscle and the nervous system. Mitochondrial DNA mutations have now been associated with aging as well as age related degenerative diseases such as Parkinson's Alzheimer's and Huntington's diseases. Changes in structure function and a number of mitochondria play an important role in carcinogenesis. Furthermore the role of mitochondria in the execution of programmed cell death or apoptosis has been recognized recently.

Mitochondrial DNA Mutations in Aging, Disease and Cancer Keshav K Singh, 2014-01-15 Strategies for Engineered Negligible Senescence International Association of Biomedical Gerontology. International Congress, 2004 This volume focuses squarely on the fact that as a result of a wide range of advances over recent years increasingly many specialists in the biology of aging are revising their traditional view that mammalian aging will remain essentially immutable for many decades to come. This is exemplified by three carefully argued analyses of the current state of biomedical gerontology published recently by a variety of experts in fields spanning most major aspects of mammalian aging. We are therefore at an unprecedented turning point in the study of aging in which the curiosity driven exploratory research that has justifiably monopolized the field until now can at last be legitimately accompanied by goal directed biotechnological efforts rationally designed on the basis of solid scientific knowledge. The purpose of this volume is to consolidate that advance by making those at the forefront of each aspect of aging and its control more aware of each other's work and by drawing attention to the comprehensiveness and therefore the potential efficacy of foreseeable anti aging biotechnology.

Mechanisms Linking Aging, Diseases and Biological Age Estimation Sara C. Zapico, 2017-03-27 This book focuses on four of the hallmarks of aging: aspartic acid racemization, advanced glycation end products, telomere shortening and mitochondrial mutations, describing their role in aging and diseases and their application to age at death estimation in forensic sciences in greater depth, displaying the interconnecting pathways among these processes. An additional chapter related to Epigenetics and its role in aging diseases and forensic age estimation is also included. This book is aimed at a broad audience from students being introduced to aging diseases and forensic science research to scientists in biomedicine and forensics complementing their knowledge in their respective fields while also increasing their knowledge in other disciplines.
