Mental Health Services for Vulnerable Children and Young People Michael Tarren-Sweeney, Arlene Vetere,2013-09-11 More than half of children either in foster care or adopted from care in the developed world have a measurable need for mental health services while up to one quarter present with complex and severe trauma and attachment related psychological disorders This book outlines how services can effectively detect prevent and treat mental health difficulties in this vulnerable population Responding to increasing evidence that standard child and adolescent mental health services are poorly matched to the mental health service needs of children and young people who have been in foster care this book provides expert guidance on the design of specialised services The first part provides an overview of these children's mental health needs their use of mental health services and what is known about the effectiveness of mental health interventions provided to them The second part presents some recent innovations in mental health service delivery concentrating on advances in clinical and developmental assessment and treatment The final part confronts the challenges for delivering effective mental health services in this area This is the definitive international reference for the design of specialised mental health services for children and young people in care and those adopted from care It is invaluable reading for health and social care professionals working with this population and academics with an interest in child and adolescent mental health from a range of disciplines including social work nursing and psychology

Assessing Adoptive Parents, Foster Carers and Kinship Carers, Second Edition Joanne Alper, David Howe, 2016-12-21

Assessing prospective adoptive parents foster carers kinship carers and special guardians is an extremely complex task and one that happens within a pressurized time frame. Currently assessments draw substantially on interviews which can generate a lot of information but little analysis to enable professionals to establish a meaningful understanding of parenting capacity. Children with histories of trauma loss and hurt need to join families in which parents exhibit the ability to be good at relationships are able to manage their own stress and bond with the child in their care. Now fully updated and expanded to cover the assessment of kinship carers and special guardians this book combines the latest findings from neuroscience with research on what makes good assessments and provides guidance and tools for making thorough analytical and effective assessments. With contributions from leading experts including Dan Hughes, Jonathan Baylin, Kim Golding and Julie Selwyn it will provide you with the information you need to ensure the best possible chance of placement success.

Narrative and Dramatic Approaches to Children's Life Story with Foster, Adoptive and Kinship Families Joan E. Moore, 2019-12-06

Narrative and Dramatic Approaches to Children's Life Story with Foster, Adoptive and Kinship Families outlines narrative and dramatic approaches to improve vulnerable family relationships. It provides a model which offers new ways for parents to practise communicating with their children and develop positive relationships. The book focuses on the Theatre of Attachment model a highly innovative approach which draws from a strong theoretical base to demonstrate the importance of narrative and dramatic play for sharing the children's life history in the family home with their adoptive foster or kinship parents. An emphasis is on having fun ways to work through complex feelings and divided loyalties so as to secure attachment. This practice model aims to raise children's self esteem and communication skills and to combat the profound effects of abuse neglect on children's development. This book will be of great interest for academics, post graduate students, universities and Training bodies, service providers and practitioners involved in social work and creative therapies, child psychologists, child psychotherapists and public and private adoption and foster care agencies.

Assessing Adoptive and Foster Parents David Howe, Joanne Alper, 2015-04-21

Assessing prospective adoptive and foster parents is an extremely complex task and one that happens within a pressurised time frame. Currently assessments draw substantially on interviews with prospective adopters and foster carers. Too often they generate a lot of information but lack meaningful analysis and understanding of parenting capacity. Children with histories of trauma loss and hurt need to join families in which parents exhibit the ability to be good at relationships, able to manage their own stress and bond with the child in their care. In this book leading experts including Dan Hughes, Jonathan Baylin, Kim Golding and Julie Selwyn combine the latest findings from neuroscience with research on what makes good assessments. Together they provide guidance and recommend tools for making thorough analytical and effective assessments which will ensure the best possible chance of placement success. Assessing Adoptive and Foster Parents is an invaluable source of knowledge and practice guidance for social workers.
