

Native Science

The background of the book cover is a vibrant illustration. It depicts two figures, possibly Native Americans, standing on a dark, rocky ground. They are holding long, thin poles that cross each other in the center. The poles are illuminated with a bright orange light. The sky is a deep blue, filled with numerous small white stars. Two large, bright, glowing blue and white nebulae or star clusters are visible in the upper right portion of the sky.

Native Science Natural Laws Of Interdependence:

Native Science Gregory Cajete, 2000 Cajete examines the multiple levels of meaning that inform Native astronomy cosmology psychology agriculture and the healing arts Unlike the western scientific method native thinking does not isolate an object or phenomenon in order to understand it but perceives it in terms of relationship An understanding of the relationships that bind together natural forces and all forms of life has been fundamental to the ability of indigenous peoples to live for millennia in spiritual and physical harmony with the land It is clear that the first peoples offer perspectives that can help us work toward solutions at this time of global environmental crisis ILL: 186484064 Native Science: Natural Laws of Interdependence , Ecological and Social Healing Jeanine M. Canty, 2025-04-03 A compendium of diverse women and nonbinary femmes the second expanded edition of this book highlights the contributors journeys with straddling social and ecological issues through both their professional and personal paths and reveals how straddling these edges has surfaced new learning models and practices for collective healing The contributors span multiple generations and positionalities and are prominent academics writers teachers artists leaders and healers Ecological and Social Healing is rooted in the power of integrating multiple and often conflicting views and the transformations that result This book is rooted in academic theory as well as personal and professional experience and highlights emerging models and insights It will appeal to those working teaching and learning in the fields of social justice environmental issues women and gender studies animal rights ecopsychology spirituality transformative studies transdisciplinarity leadership and interdisciplinary intersectionality studies as well as anyone straddling the boundaries of gender race ecology and the crises of our times and are looking for new ways of being Lived Topographies and Their Mediational Forces Gary Backhaus, John Murungi, 2005-01-01 This collection explores the various forms of narrative semiotic and technological mediation that shape the experience of place From the East End of London to Navajo lands to Ground Zero Lived Topographies examines the great effect of language mass media surveillance and other incursions of the contemporary world on topographical experience and description Gary Backhaus and John Murungi have assembled a wide array of scholars to provide an interdisciplinary approach to this subject giving this collection a unique perspective on the phenomenology of place BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Teaching and Learning Secondary School Mathematics Ann Kajander, Jennifer Holm, Egan J Chernoff, 2018-10-24 This volume brings together recent research and commentary in secondary school mathematics from a breadth of contemporary Canadian and International researchers and educators It is both representative of mathematics education generally as well as unique to the particular geography and culture of Canada The chapters address topics of broad applicability such as technology in learning mathematics recent interest in social justice contexts in the learning of mathematics as well as Indigenous education The voices of classroom practitioners the group ultimately responsible for implementing this new vision of mathematics teaching and learning are not
