The Cambridge

History of Medieval English Literature David Wallace,2002-04-25 This was the first full scale history of medieval English literature for nearly a century Thirty three distinguished contributors offer a collaborative account of literature composed or transmitted in England Wales Ireland and Scotland between the Norman conquest and the death of Henry VIII in 1547 The volume has five sections After the Norman Conquest Writing in the British Isles Institutional Productions After the Black Death and Before the Reformation It provides information on a vast range of literary texts and the conditions of their production and reception which will serve both specialists and general readers and also contains a chronology full bibliography and a detailed index This book offers an extensive and vibrant account of the medieval literatures so drastically reconfigured in Tudor England It will thus prove essential reading for scholars of the Renaissance as well as medievalists and for historians as well as literary specialists Medieval English Literature Joseph Burney Trapp, Douglas Gray, Julia Boffey, 2002 Medieval English Literature is the first volume of the comprehensive Oxford Anthology of English Literature to be published in a second expanded and fully revised edition. It provides an authoritative and representative selection from the vast riches of Anglo Saxon and Middle English literature of the period between AD 700 and AD 1500. The texts are presented either in full or in ample selections helpfully and fully glossed and annotated according to the most recent scholarship. They are situated in their cultural context through general and particular introductions and through the carefully chosen illustrations many of them new. Texts, annotations, introductions, and the bibliography have been thoroughly revised and brought up to date and there is a full glossary of literary and historical terms. Anglo Saxon poetry appears in modern verse translation. In addition to the whole of Beowulf Edwin Morgan's translation of elegies, The Dream of the Rood and The Battle of Maldon, there is a sampling of wisdom literature and of biblical epic made with particular reference to the situation of women in Anglo Saxon society. The generous choice of Chaucer's poetry in a lightly modernized glossed text now includes as well as the General Prologue and the tales of the Miller, the Nun, the Priest, the Wife of Bath with her Prologue, the Franklin and the Pardoner, an extract from The Legend of Good Women and others from the Scottish Chaucerians Henryson and Dunbar. For romance, the whole of the third book of Chaucer's Troilus and Criseyde and the entire text of Sir Orfeo both glossed have been added to Sir Gawain and the Green Knight revised translation by Keith Harrison. The selections from Malory's Morte Darthur have been augmented as have the translated extracts from The Visions of Piers Plowman with the account of the Harrowing of Hell. Modernized versions of the Chester Play of Noah and the Seven Deadly Sins episode from The Castle of Perseverance join the Second Shepherds Play and Everyman in the Theater section. Ballads and lyric poetry have also been changed and amplified to link with a notable innovation the section entitled Women's Writing and Women's Experience an introduction to Middle English prose written by and for women.

New Approaches to European Theater of the Middle Ages Barbara I. Gusick, Edelgard E. DuBruck, 2004 New Approaches to European Theater of the Middle Ages: An Ontology examines texts as well as cultural and performative aspects of a wide variety of plays both sacred and secular in England, France, Germany, the Netherlands, Spain, Italy, and Yugoslavia. This collection of fourteen articles in English by contributors from both sides of the Atlantic also considers the implications and parameters of communal involvement and the societal theatrical roles of the oppressed, the disabled, Jews, and peasants. This book has been designed to appeal to specialists, students, and teachers of medieval drama, psychology, religion, and hagiography, literature and art, and to readers in general.

Poverty in Late Middle English Literature Dinah Hazell, 2009 Studies of medieval poverty tend to focus on a few works, particularly Piers Plowman and related texts, and on the indigent and rural poor. This book presents a comprehensive view of poverty at different social levels from aristocrat to pauper and the way in which poverty is employed as a topos to reflect social and moral concerns. The literary works primarily from the fourteenth century and set within a cultural historical context represent a broad range of authors and genres including romance chronicle satire complaint homily hagiography treatise and drama and include both well and lesser known pieces There is a strong focus on the historical and literary solutions to poverty as well as factors that influenced the complex and often conflicting attitudes towards the poor
