Politics and Racism Beyond Nations J. P. Linstroth, 2022-01-18 This book brings together theoretical knowledge from diverse fields as anthropology biology neurology peace studies political science psychology and sociology to address key challenges that transcend borders. It demonstrates how differences are created on many levels to reveal how the othering project is evident through national policies of immigration through aspiring nationalisms through genocidal inhumanity and the subsequent effects of such othering evident in racial trauma. It further argues that we cannot limit our understanding of racism to forms of white nationalism or whiteness movements in the developed world and regions but look to the global formulation of such discrimination in colonial histories. The book introduces each chapter by providing rich ethnographic narratives from informants based upon the author's research on nationalism racism genocide terrorism trauma scientific tolerance and love and peace as well as some auto ethnographic narratives from the author's research on these themes.

Nature That Makes Us Human Michel Loreau, 2023 This book seeks to answer two fundamental questions. Why do we keep destroying nature when science makes it clear that in doing so we risk our own destruction. How can we stop doing so and regain the unity of humans and nature. First the book shows that the inability of modern society to modify its relationship with nature has its roots in the collective fictions that have gradually shaped it since the Neolithic revolution. The collective fictions that underpin modernity include in particular the subject object duality the matter mind duality the primacy of rationality and the superiority of the human species over all other living beings. These deeply ingrained fictions prevent us from acting in the world in agreement with the needs and knowledge that we have. Second the book argues that humans have a nature that defines them as a unique species beyond their cultural differences and this nature is not made only of flesh and bones but also of a set of fundamental needs. Fundamental needs connect humans with nature spontaneously because they are the manifestation of life in them. They also make it possible to re establish the unity of body and mind and of the different forms of knowledge and to give the economy a new direction focused on the development of the human being and of its living environment. Challenging our collective fictions and reconnecting with our deepest nature is essential if we are to overcome the current ecological crisis and allow life on Earth to flourish.

Meditations on First Philosophy Rene Descartes, 2019-01-31 I again undertake to treat of God and the human soul and at the same time to discuss the principles of the entire First Philosophy without however expecting any commendation from the crowd for my endeavors or a wide circle of readers. On the contrary I would advise none to read this work unless such as are able and willing to meditate with me in earnest to detach their minds from commerce with the senses and likewise to deliver themselves from all prejudice and individuals of this character are I well know remarkably rare. But with regard to those who without caring to comprehend the order and connection of the reasonings shall study only detached clauses for the purpose of small but noisy criticism as is the custom with many I may say that such persons will not profit greatly by the reading of this treatise and although perhaps they may find opportunity for cavilling in several places they will yet hardly start any pressing objections or such as shall be deserving of reply But since indeed I do not promise to satisfy others on all these subjects at first sight nor arrogate so much to myself as to believe that I have been able to foresee all that may be the source of difficulty to each ones I shall expound first of all in the Meditations those considerations by which I feel persuaded that I have arrived at a certain and evident knowledge of truth in order that I may ascertain whether the reasonings which have prevailed with myself will also be effectual in convincing others I will then reply to the objections of some men illustrious for their genius and learning to whom these Meditations were sent for criticism before they were committed to the press for these objections are so numerous and varied that I venture to anticipate that nothing at least nothing of any moment will readily occur to any mind which has not been touched upon in them Taken from Meditations On First Philosophy written by Rene Descartes Are You Making Love or Just Having Sex? Elliot D. Cohen, 2024-10-15 In making love one is elevated beyond the carnal desires it satisfies For the religious it is Divine for those who are not religiously inclined it is still a spiritual experience one of seamless solidarity a unity of two as one that defies mere orgasmic stimulation You don t have to make love to have sex Even strangers can be sexually attracted and have an orgasmic escapade But in the act of making love there is symbolic meaning that is felt through and through the sex act Two in love are joined in life and the sexual expression of this unison is deeply felt in the sex act itself This is sexual intimacy the making of love the likes of which is rarely if ever seen outside a loving relationship There is no escape from the philosophical dimensions of such a loving relationship It is as abstract as it is concrete in the ideals that ground it There is a mystery about it a kind of transcendent experience that defies translation into words Making and being in love are thus joined at the hip Loving relationships make the bed in which true lovers sleep Unfortunately many relationships flounder or never get off the ground Just having sex may ease the tension but it then becomes a means not truly an end in itself The moment the sex act ends the couple may retreat and fall into discord It is an oasis in a barren desert that provides temporary relief a titillating temporary escape from reality This book can help you to overcome the obstacles the unlovable habits that encumber your relationship both inside and outside the bedroom It can help to create the harmonic balance between your sex life and other aspects of your personal and interpersonal relationships which are preludes to making and being in love To accomplish this it applies a five step method based on Logic Based Therapy Consultation LBTC a popular form of evidence based philosophical counseling modality First it introduces you to six types of unlovable ways of thinking and acting and helps you to identify the ones that may be sabotaging your own relationship Second it shows you how to counter these self defeating habits with certain lovable goals virtues of love Third it helps you to identify and embrace a personal love philosophy that empowers you to reach for your lovable goals Fourth it provides core philosophical ideas that are key to any successful quest for romantic love Fifth it helps you construct a behavioral plan that applies your philosophies to making constructive changes in your relationship The latter may require making changes both inside and outside your relationship Thus this book also shows you how the problems you are having in one area of your life at work in your social life etc can affect the quality of your relationship inside and outside the bedroom and it offers guidance including self improvement exercises to overcome these impediments and attain enduring love and sexual intimacy Anxiety, Modern Society, and the Critical Method

Joel Michael Crombez,2021-03-08 Anxiety Modern Society and the Critical Method interrogates the historical intersections of political economy technology and anxiety By analyzing and building upon the tools developed by critical theorists to diagnose the symptoms of modern life such as alienation anomie the Protestant ethic and repression Joel Michael Crombez convincingly argues for a revitalization of critical social science to better confront the anxiety of life in modern societies With anxiety typically falling under the purview of psychology and its biomedical approach to treatment here anxiety is demonstrated to have origins in the totalizing logics of modern society As such Crombez provides an interdisciplinary roadmap to diagnose and treat anxiety which he calls critical socioanalysis that accounts for the psychosocial complexity of its production

Political Nature John M. Meyer,2001-07-20 Concern over environmental problems is prompting us to reexamine established thinking about society and politics The challenge is to find a way for the public s concern for the environment to become more integral to social economic and political decision making Two interpretations have dominated Western portrayals of the nature politics relationship what John Meyer calls the dualist and the derivative The dualist account holds that politics and human culture in general is completely separate from nature The derivative account views Western political thought as derived from conceptions of nature whether Aristotelian teleology the clocklike mechanism of early modern science or Darwinian selection Meyer examines the nature politics relationship in the writings of two of its most pivotal theorists Aristotle and Thomas Hobbes and of contemporary environmentalist thinkers He concludes that we must overcome the limitations of both the dualist and the derivative interpretations if we are to understand the relationship between nature and politics Human thought and action says Meyer should be considered neither superior nor subservient to the nonhuman natural world but interdependent with it In the final chapter he shows how struggles over toxic waste dumps in poor neighborhoods land use in the American West and rainforest protection in the Amazon illustrate this relationship and point toward an environmental politics that recognizes the experience of place as central Speculative Affect Charmaine Eddy,2025-03-10 Speculative Affect Objects and Emotions is an edited collection examining the intersection between affect and objects in the fields of literature cultural theory and cultural production The word speculative in the title references recent philosophical and cultural work in the speculative turn a philosophical field that includes speculative realism new materialisms thing theory or object oriented ontology where the object is analyzed apart from human consciousness and human use value By linking this return to an ontological object realism beyond human consciousness with affect theory s reimagining of corporeality by exploring attachments bodily sensations autonomic responses and emotions as embodied forces beyond conscious knowing this work addresses the last frontier in radically reconfiguring the status of human life the division and hierarchy between so called inert material and the apparent superiority of humanity Understanding René Descartes René Descartes, Laurence Houlgate, 2020-10-29 This philosophy study guide for Descartes' Meditations on First Philosophy is the seventh book in the Smart Student's Guides to Philosophical Classics series. Like the other books in the series, it is much more than an outline or a set of notes and flash cards. It is a book for smart students who are serious about understanding and thinking critically about one of the most consequential books ever written in the history of philosophy. Part I of the book has the complete text of John Veitch's translation of the original Meditations presented in a way that makes it much easier for a beginning philosophy student to understand and think critically about Descartes' classic work. Each of the six Meditations is divided into smaller sections with sub titles followed by Professor Houlgate's commentary and critiques. Questions for thought and discussion are at the end of each chapter. These questions are intended to help students prepare for examinations and give them ideas and topics for term papers. Part II takes the student deeper into Descartes' meditations. It includes two chapters on method analyses of Descartes' arguments and comparisons to and criticisms of other philosophers on important philosophical problems and theories. These are presented in a way that invite students to do their own thinking about the meditations, engage with their professor in classroom discussion and organize and write a successful term paper.

Meditations on First Philosophy René Descartes, 2021-08-22 Meditations on First Philosophy in which the existence of God and the immortality of the soul are demonstrated is a philosophical treatise by René Descartes first published in Latin in 1641. The French translation was published in 1647 as Meditations.

A Guided Tour of René Descartes' Meditations on First Philosophy Christopher Biffle, 1989 Sedation, Suicide, and the Limits of Ethics James A. Dunson III, 2017-12-20 In this book James Dunson explores end of life ethics including physician assisted suicide (PAS) and continuous sedation until death. He argues that ethical debates currently ignore the experience of the dying patient in an effort to focus on policy creation and proposes that the dying experience should instead be prioritized and used to inform policy development. The author makes the case that PAS should be recognized as a legally and morally permissible option for a very particular kind of patient terminally ill with fewer than six months to live and capable of conscious consent. Since focusing on the patient's experience of this end of life dilemma transforms some of the basic concepts we use to engage in the PAS debate, the argument has implications for patient care and the training of medical professionals.

Dwell, 2000 Possible Worlds Theory and Readers' Emotional Responses to Literature Megan Mansworth, 2025-09-18 This book develops a cognitive stylistic exploration of readers' emotional experiences of literature. Adopting Possible Worlds Theory as a framework, the volume constructs a stylistic analysis of some of the ways in which novels elicit readers' emotions. A typology of past, present and future textual actual and possible worlds is formulated to frame analysis of three novels: A Fine Balance by Rohinton Mistry, Revolutionary Road by Richard Yates and The Trick Is to Keep Breathing by Janice Galloway. The author integrates close stylistic analysis with the use of empirical data drawn from reader interviews and online reader reviews The analysis of these diverse 20th century novels works to show the utility of the typology for analysis formulated for this book as well as to demonstrate the value of incorporating empirical reader data in analysis of the ways in which novels may affect readers emotions Research Methods in Anthropology H. Project Gutenberg offers a wide range of classic literature, making it an excellent resource for literature enthusiasts. Another popular platform for Meditations On First Philosophy Amazon books and manuals is Open Library. Open Library is an initiative of the Internet Archive, a non-profit organization dedicated to digitizing cultural artifacts and making them accessible to the public. Open Library hosts millions of books, including both public domain works and contemporary titles. It also allows users to borrow digital copies of certain books for a limited period, similar to a library lending system. Additionally, many universities and educational institutions have their own digital libraries that provide free access to PDF books and manuals. These libraries often offer academic texts, research papers, and technical manuals, making them invaluable resources for students and researchers. Some notable examples include MIT OpenCourseWare, which offers free access to course materials from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Digital Public Library of America, which provides a vast collection of digitized books and historical documents. In conclusion, Meditations On First

Philosophy Amazon books and manuals for download have transformed the way we access information. They provide a cost-effective and convenient means of acquiring knowledge, offering the ability to access a vast library of resources at our fingertips.
