Business leaders are continually told they need to embrace digital disruption wholeheartedly to thrive in the 21st Century. Legacy companies we hear are all doomed to fail unless they double down on the latest digital innovations and disruptors are ordained to take over the world. Digital innovation is the answer to everything. False. Nothing in life or business is ever that simple. In The Brains and Brawn Company How Leading Organizations Blend the Best of Digital and Physical venture capitalist and Stanford Business School lecturer Robert Siegel brings the digital innovation conversation back down to earth. He shows that while important digital is only part of the answer and it's never the only answer. The vast majority of successful leaders from both incumbents and disruptors focus as much on things like logistics manufacturing and distribution as they do on digital innovation. In fact many established companies are successfully countering young upstarts in other creative ways and many new organizations are learning from their older brethren. Siegel shows how to create lasting profits and growth in the smartest way possible by creating a solid partnership between digital innovation and traditional business operations in other words by marrying brains and brawn. He lays out the core competencies that today's industry leaders have mastered and explains how Charles Schwab uses cutting edge analytics to better serve millions of investors without violating its original code of values.
