Saving Lives Sandy Summers, Harry Summers, 2015 This fully updated and expanded edition of Saving Lives highlights the essential roles nurses play in contemporary health care and how this role is marginalized by contemporary culture Through engaging prose and examples drawn from television advertising and news coverage the authors detail the media's role in reinforcing stereotypes that fuel the nursing shortage and devalue a highly educated sector of the contemporary workforce Perhaps most important the authors provide a wealth of ideas to help reinvigorate the nursing field and correct this imbalance

Congressional Record, Introduction to Nursing Research Boswell, Sharon Cannon, 2017 The Fourth Edition of Introduction to Nursing Research is a distinct integration of evidence based practice and research for the baccalaureate student and practicing registered nurses It focuses on how students can incorporate research into their daily practice while considering all the newest trends and issues This is not a typical introduction to nursing research book it is an evidence based practice text that uses research The Fourth Edition focus on the meaning of evidence the use of quality improvement and the practical application of these aspects for the practicing health care provider

Social Interaction and Professional Identity in Allied Healthcare Education Caroline Jagoe, Niamh Reynolds, Irene Walsh, 2025-04-30 This book considers social interaction as both the means and conduit for professional identity development in Allied Healthcare Professional AHCP teaching and learning contexts from the classroom to the clinic room and beyond Concepts and contexts within AHCP education are presented before empirical data are discussed Drawing on qualitative data from allied healthcare students and professionals within predominantly the disciplines of speech and language therapy physiotherapy and occupational therapy arguments are made for the recognition of social interaction as an explicit process integral to education in this healthcare sphere yet often taken for granted or deemed a mere by product of day to day activities in teaching and learning Failing to recognise the value and force of social interaction in such contexts is detrimental to the development of discipline specific and discipline generic ways of honing a professional identity as individuals both reflect upon and navigate the trajectory of their student and professional pathways
