Overcoming Barriers to Electric-vehicle Deployment Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, 2013 Annotation

The electric vehicle offers many promises increasing U S energy security by reducing petroleum dependence contributing to climate change initiatives by decreasing greenhouse gas GHG emissions stimulating long term economic growth through the development of new technologies and industries and improving public health by improving local air quality There are however substantial technical social and economic barriers to widespread adoption of electric vehicles including vehicle cost small driving range long charging times and the need for a charging infrastructure In addition people are unfamiliar with electric vehicles are uncertain about their costs and benefits and have diverse needs that current electric vehicles might not meet Although a person might derive some personal benefits from ownership the costs of achieving the social benefits such as reduced GHG emissions are borne largely by the people who purchase the vehicles Given the recognized barriers to electric vehicle adoption Congress asked the Department of Energy DOE to commission a study by the National Academies to address market barriers that are slowing the purchase of electric vehicles and hindering the deployment of supporting infrastructure As a result of the request the National Research Council NRC a part of the National Academies appointed the Committee on Overcoming Barriers to Electric Vehicle Deployment This committee documented their findings in two reports a short interim report focused on near term options and a final comprehensive report Overcoming Barriers to Electric Vehicle Deployment fulfills the request for the short interim report that addresses specifically the following issues infrastructure needs for electric vehicles barriers to deploying the infrastructure and possible roles of the federal government in overcoming the barriers This report also includes an initial discussion of the pros and cons of the possible roles This interim report does not address the committee s full statement of task and does not offer any recommendations because the committee is still in its early stages of data gathering The committee will continue to gather and review information and conduct analyses through late spring 2014 and will issue its final report in late summer 2014 Overcoming Barriers to Electric Vehicle Deployment focuses on the light duty vehicle sector in the United States and restricts its discussion of electric vehicles to plug in electric vehicles PEVs which include battery electric vehicles BEVs and plug in hybrid electric vehicles PHEVs The common feature of these vehicles is that their batteries are charged by being plugged into the electric grid BEVs differ from PHEVs because they operate solely on electricity stored in a battery that is there is no other power source PHEVs have internal combustion engines that can supplement the electric power train Although this report considers PEVs generally the committee recognizes that there are fundamental differences between PHEVs and BEVs

Planning and Operation of Electric Vehicles in Smart Grids Mehdi Rahmani-Andebili, 2023-08-14 Transportation electrification particularly using electric vehicles EV has been widely suggested to mitigate global warming and energy security issues due to their economic and environmental benefits Environmentalists are advertising EV use and governments are implementing financial incentives to expedite the transition from conventional vehicles to electric ones to achieve energy security and climate change mitigation goals At the same time EVs are becoming more affordable as their battery prices decrease It has been predicted that EV sales will soon surpass gasoline and diesel vehicle sales Therefore EVs will be one of the significant electricity customers in the future This fact hints that the uncontrolled charging and discharging of large numbers of EVs can put power systems at risk Hence optimal planning and operation of EVs is not only necessary but beneficial This collection covers recent research advancements in the planning and operation of EVs in smart grids Aglobal group of researchers and scholars present innovative approaches while covering the theoretical and experimental aspects

Smart Cities Policies and Financing

John R. Vacca,2022-01-19 Smart Cities Policies and Financing Approaches and Solutions is the definitive professional reference for harnessing the full potential of policy making and financial planning in smart cities It covers the effective tools for capturing the dynamic relations between people policies financing and environments and where they are most often useful and effective for all relevant stakeholders The book examines the key role of science technology and innovation STI especially in information and communications technologies in the design development and management of smart cities policies and financing It identifies the problems and offers practical solutions in implementation of smart infrastructure policies and financing Smart Cities Policies and Financing is also about how the implementation of smart infrastructure projects related to the challenges of the lack of financing and the application of suitable policies underlines the key roles of science technology and innovation STI communities in addressing these challenges and provides key policies and financing that will help guide the design and development of smart cities Brings together experts from academia government and industry to offer state of the art solutions for improving the lives of billions of people in cities around the globe Creates awareness among governments of the various policy tools available such as output based contracting public private partnerships procurement policies long term contracting and targeted research funds in order to promote smart infrastructure implementation and encouraging the use of such tools to shape markets for smart infrastructure and correct market failures Ensures the inclusiveness of smart city projects by adequately addressing the special needs of marginalized sections of society including the elderly persons with disabilities and inhabitants of informal settlements and informal sectors Ensures gender considerations in the design of smart cities and infrastructure through the use of data generated by smart systems to make cities safer and more responsive to the needs of women Demonstrate practical implementation through real life case studies Enhances reader comprehension using learning aids such as hands on exercises checklists chapter summaries review questions and an extensive appendix of additional resources

Insights in Energy and Society: 2022 Sanya Carley,Tian Tang,Saba Siddiki,2023-11-28 We are now entering the third decade of the 21st Century and especially in the last few years the achievements made by researchers have been exceptional leading to major advancements in the fast growing field of energy and society Frontiers has organized a series of Research Topics to highlight the latest advancements in research across the field of sustainable energy policy with articles from the Associate Members of our accomplished Editorial Boards This editorial initiative of particular relevance led by Professor Sanya Carley Specialty Chief Editor of the Energy and Society section is focused on new insights novel developments current challenges latest discoveries recent advances and future perspectives in the energy and society field The Research Topic solicits brief forward looking contributions from the editorial board members that describe the state of the art outlining recent developments and major accomplishments that have been achieved and that need to occur to move the field forward Authors are encouraged to identify the greatest challenges in the sub disciplines and how to address those challenges The goal of this special edition Research Topic is to shed light on the progress made in the past decade in the energy and society field and on its future challenges to provide a thorough overview of the field This article collection will inspire inform and provide direction and guidance to researchers in the field

Vehicle-to-Grid Lance Noel,Gerardo Zarazua de Rubens,Johannes Kester,Benjamin K. Sovacool,2019-01-16 This book defines and charts the barriers and future of vehicle to grid technology a technology that could dramatically reduce emissions create revenue and accelerate the adoption of battery electric cars This technology connects the electric power grid and the transportation system in ways that will enable electric vehicles to store renewable energy and offer valuable services to the electricity grid and its markets To understand the complex features of this emergent technology the authors explore the current status and prospect of vehicle to grid and detail the sociotechnical barriers that may impede its fruitful deployment The book concludes with a policy roadmap to advise decision makers on how to optimally implement vehicle to grid and capture its benefits to society while attempting to avoid the impediments discussed earlier in the book
