The Routledge Handbook of International Law and Anthropocentrism Vincent Chapaux,Frédéric Mégret,Usha Natarajan,2023-06-15 This handbook explores contextualises and critiques the relationship between anthropocentrism the idea that human beings are socially and politically at the centre of the cosmos and international law While the critical study of anthropocentrism has been under way for several years it has either focused on specific subfields of international law or emanated from two distinctive strands inspired by the animal rights movement and deep ecology This handbook offers a broader study of anthropocentrism in international law as a global legal system and academic field It assesses the extent to which current international law is anthropocentric contextualises that claim in relation to broader critical theories of anthropocentrism and explores alternative ways for international law to organise relations between humans and other living and non living entities This book will interest international lawyers environmental lawyers legal theorists social theorists and those concerned with the philosophy and ethics of ecology and the non human realms Chapter 6 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license Funded by University of Gothenburg and Lund University

Redefining Genocide Doctor Damien Short,2016-06-15 In this highly controversial and original work Damien Short systematically rethinks how genocide is and should be defined Rather than focusing solely on a narrow conception of genocide as direct mass killing through close empirical analysis of a number of under discussed case studies including Palestine Sri Lanka Australia and Alberta Canada the book reveals the key role played by settler colonialism capitalism finite resources and the ecological crisis in driving genocidal social death on a global scale

Climate Change and Future Justice Catriona McKinnon,2012-03-12 Climate change creates unprecedented problems of intergenerational justice What do members of the current generation owe to future generations in virtue of the contribution they are making to climate change Providing important new insights within the theoretical framework of political liberalism Climate Change and Future Justice presents arguments in three key areas Mitigation the current generation ought to adopt a strong precautionary principle in formulating climate change policy in order to minimise the risks of serious harm from climate change imposed on future generations Adaptation the current generation ought to create a fund to which members of future generations may apply for compensation if the risks of climate change harm imposed on them by the current generation ripen into harms Triage future generations ought to keep alive hope for a return to the framework of justice for the social cooperation of future people less burdened by climate change harms This work presents agenda setting applications of important principles of democratic equality to the most serious set of political challenges ever faced by human society It should be required reading for political theorists and environmental philosophers
