Working with Excluded Populations in HIV Carmen Logie, 2021-07-05 This book written decades into the HIV epidemic reflects critically on the idea that the socially excluded populations often focused on in HIV research are in fact difficult to access and reach The author broadly applies the concept hard to reach to characterize populations that researchers find difficult to engage with Social factors that produce marginalization and ultimately result in people choosing not to engage in research are not captured by the concept of hard to reach Limited attention has focused on how researchers can address the social factors that result in decisions to not engage in research Disrupting the ways in which people are conceptualized as hard to reach so as to refocus on transforming social systems and personal values beliefs and approaches is understudied This book uses case examples based on HIV research with Indigenous youth internally displaced women LGBTQ communities in the Global North and Global South and persons at the intersection of these identities to identify successful approaches to working with marginalized and often vulnerable communities and groups The chapters signal the need for attention to five key social factors when developing successful approaches context and storytelling cultural humility critical hope imagination and possibility and love intimate inquiry and the beloved community if nations individuals and communities are to address the epidemic in a sustainable and impactful way

Student as Producer Mike Neary, 2020-07-31 Student as Producer is set between the student protests and urban riots that erupted in England in 2010 2011 and the 2017 General Election during which students and young people played a significant role by protesting the politics of austerity and by supporting the politics of Corbynism This revolutionary curriculum is framed around unlearning the law of labor and the institutions through which the law of labor is enforced including the capitalist university which seeks growth and expansion for the sake of growth neglecting the needs of students in favor of the needs of the capitalist state Through thought experiments and reference to the work of the Soviet legal theorist Evgeny Pashukanis Student as Producer searches for solutions to how cooperatives might be brought about by a sense of common purpose and social defense Mike Neary grounds his answers in a version of Marx's social theory known as a new reading of Marx as advanced by authors such as Werner Bonefeld and Moishe Postone The theory is applied to various aspects of pedagogy criminology and political sociology to create a curricula for revolutionary teaching that will aid activists who are seeking ways in which to engage critically with higher education

Japanese Schooling and Identity Investment Overseas Glenn Toh, 2020-09-30 This book is about education ideology power and identity investment and concerns an influential East Asian expatriate community Specifically it seeks to understand particular ways in which the Japanese white collar elite live as a closed and self referentially defined in group despite the manifestly multicultural ethos of their Singaporean domicile The study attends to issues regarding schooling unity diversity and community based on grounded anthropological observations Specific observations centre around the particularities of Japanese nation state schooling practices set in cosmopolitan Singapore a contrastingly non Japanese setting The insights therein are made possible by way of seeing education as an ideological domain and powerful discursive platform Using this framework cultural and identity related practices are viewed dynamically and appreciated for their fluidic reflection of identity praxes Readers will gain fresh insights into the role of education and ideology in reproducing asymmetry and the value of sociohistorical analyses in surfacing hidden power relations Researchers educators and decision makers will appreciate the transparency of grounded ethnographic observation yielding insights into practices which imbricate inclusion exclusion and privilege marginalization debates within a neoliberal hegemony Students of the social politics of education and the cultural politics of language ideology and identity will find the book a provocative read      Pedagogy of Hope, Epz Edition Freire, 2006-01
