Its tourism and events sectors are growing and over the last few years London has received more visitors than ever before. However, detailed accounts of the city's visitor economy are conspicuously absent. This book analyses how the capital is developing as a destination through the expansion of tourism and events into new urban spaces. The book outlines how parts of London not previously regarded as tourist territory are now subject to the visitor gaze, with tourism spreading beyond established central zones into peripheral suburban and residential areas, in part propelled by a big rise in peer-to-peer accommodation use. Simultaneously, London's airports and sports stadiums and their surrounds are becoming destinations in their own right. New vantage points have been created, allowing tourists to explore the city from above at night time or through tours given by the homeless via the opening up of the River Thames or through the transformation of local parks into eventscapes. The book explores these trends and shows how urban destinations expand. In doing so, it enhances our understanding of London and highlights the growing significance of tourism and events in global cities. Mass Tourism in a Small World David Harrison, Richard Sharpley, 2017-05-26 This new book reviews all aspects of the phenomenon of mass tourism. It covers theoretical perspectives including political economy, ethics, sustainability, and environmentalism, the historical context, and the current challenges to domestic, intra-regional, and international mass tourism. As tourism and tourist numbers continue to grow around the world, it becomes increasingly important that this subject is studied in depth and best practice applied in real-life situations. Finishing with a speculative chapter identifying potential future trends and challenges, this book forms an essential resource for all researchers and students within tourism studies. Volunteers with Children Everywhere Florence Koenderink, 2017 Volunteers with Children Everywhere, the 3rd book in the Children Everywhere Series, gives information and support to people who are thinking about volunteering in children's homes abroad. Part 1 helps you make sure you make the right decisions for your situation; that you are prepared as well as possible for what you can expect and what you will need. Part 2 explains some of the things you will encounter once you arrive and get to work and gives advice on how to avoid certain pitfalls to make sure your well intentioned help does not do more harm than good And because most volunteers do not have childcare experience Part 3 gives a mini crash course in childcare The aim is to both make your volunteering experience pleasant and to make sure the children will really benefit from it
