Design, Control, Predict Aaron Shapiro,2020-12-15 An in depth look at life in the smart city Technology has fundamentally transformed urban life. But today's smart cities look little like what experts had predicted. Aaron Shapiro shows us the true face of the revolution in urban technology taking the reader on a tour of today's smart city. Along the way he develops a new lens for interpreting urban technologies logistical governance to critique an urban future based on extraction and rationalization. Through ethnographic research, journalistic interviews and his own hands-on experience, Shapiro helps us peer through cracks in the smart city's facade. He investigates the true price New Yorkers pay for free ad-funded WiFi, finding that it ultimately serves the ends of commercial media. He also builds on his experience as a bike courier for a food delivery startup to examine how promises of flexible employment in the gig economy in fact pave the way for strict managerial control. And he turns his eye toward hot button debates around police violence and new patrol technologies asking whether algorithms are really the answer to reforming our cities ongoing crises of criminal justice. Through these gripping accounts of the new technological urbanism, Design Control Predict makes vital contributions to conversations around data privacy and algorithmic governance. Shapiro brings much-needed empirical research to a field that has often relied on 10,000 foot views. Timely, important and expertly researched, Design Control Predict doesn't just help us comprehend urbanism today it advances strategies for critiquing and resisting a dystopian future that can seem inevitable.
