Verbs

A verb expresses action or state of being. It tells something about the subject. There are two types of verbs: action verbs and linking verbs.

- Action verbs express the action carried out by the subject.

EX: Sam walks to school.

The birds sing over the trees.

They will come to the auditions.

- Linking verbs express a state of being or a condition. They tell the subject of the verb in every information about the subject.

EX: Sam is cool.

Carl and his brothers are players.

As you see in these examples, the main difference linking verbs is a form of the verb to be.

- Linking verbs also include sensory verbs, such as to feel, to look, and to sound.

EX: Mercedes feels cool today.

Look smells different.

The classroom looks different.

- Helping verbs are placed right before the main verbs. They help give the main verb more detail. In the following sentences, the helping verb is underlined.

EX: I will help you wash the car today.

Has Mary called you about the play?

Are there more to go to the movies with you?
