

Adult male wing. The wing of the male shows more rusty orange than that of the female, extending into the ninth primary (p9) and almost to the tip of p1 and the first few secondary wing feathers.

Adult female wing. The wing shape and coloration are also similar to those of the male, but the extent of rusty orange is less than in the male's wing. The underwing rusty cinnamon color is also slightly subdued in the female, although it is still very evident.

The underside of the mandible of this male does not show any red. The gorget is packed with spangles, which shine much more brilliantly than the female's gorget.

This is the same bird as in the previous image, from a different angle. Now the gorget is a much darker green and has a hint of dark blue. Note that the belly is cinnamon buff.

In good light, it is easy to see the solid-green head, neck, gorget, and breast of an adult male. Note the bright cinnamon underwings and the cinnamon on the undertail coverts.
