Whitaker's Cumulative Book List , 1950 Going Green Sally Stenhouse Kneidel, Sadie Kneidel, 2008 Going Green focuses on the biggest environmental culprits of the Western lifestyle diet housing clothing and transportation providing practical and effective steps we can all take to reduce our carbon footprint and live more sustainably This comprehensive text is written with an approachable and empowering tone drawing on personal interviews and real life examples to demonstrate both the challenges and rewards of making environmentally responsible choices Informative and inspiring Going Green will make you think twice about every dollar you spend British Romanticism and the Archive David Kerler, 2022-06-06 Taking its cue from Jacques Derrida s concept of le mal d archive this study explores the interrelations between the experience of loss melancholia archives and their self destructive tendencies surfacing in different forms of spectrality in selected poetry of British Romanticism It argues that the British Romantics were highly influenced by the period s archival fever manifesting itself in various historical material technological and cultural aspects and implicitly reflected and engaged with these discourses and materialities medialities in their works This is scrutinized by focusing on two basal closely related facets the subject's feverish desire to archive and the archive's self-destructive tendencies which may also surface in an ambivalent melancholic relishing in the archived object's presence within its absence. Through this new theoretical perspective details and coherence previously gone unnoticed shall be laid bare ultimately contributing to a new and more profound understanding of British Romanticism. It will be shown that the various discursive and material manifestations of archives and archival practices not only echo the period's technological, cultural and historical developments along with its incisive experiencing of loss but also fundamentally determine Romantic subjectivity and aesthetics. Engineering Journal, 1990

Representing Justice Judith Resnik, Dennis Edward Curtis, 2011-01-01 A remnant of the Renaissance, the transnational iconography of justice. Civic space, the public square and good governance. Obedience, the judge as the loyal servant of the state. Of eyes and ostriches. Why eyes, color, blindness and impartiality. Representations and abstractions, identity, politics and rights. From seventeenth century town halls to twentieth century courts. A building and litigation boom in Twentieth Century federal courts. Late Twentieth Century United States courts, monumentality, security and eclectic imagery. Monuments to the present and museums of the past, national courts and prisons. Constructing regional rights. Multi-jurisdictional premises from peace to crimes. From rites to rights. Courts in and out of sight, site and cite. An iconography for democratic adjudication.

Foolproof Greg Ip, 2015-10-08 Why anti-lock brakes make us drive faster. Why saving money can lead to financial crises. How football helmets make the game more dangerous. Why letting forest fires burn can be safer than putting them out. We have learned a staggering amount about human nature and disaster, yet we are continually unprepared for car crashes, floods and financial crises. Partly this is because the very success we've had making life safer enables us to take more extreme different risks. As our cities, transport systems and financial markets become more interconnected and complex, so does the potential for disaster. How do we stay safe? Should we? What if our attempts are exposing us even more to the very risks we are trying to avoid? What if acceptance of danger ultimately makes us more secure and prosperous? Is there such a thing as foolproof? In this fascinating account of risk taking and crisis, Greg Ip presents a macro theory of human nature and disaster that explains how we can keep ourselves safe in our increasingly dangerous world. Seat Leon (Sept '05 to Sept '12) 55 to 62 Reg.
