Paper Tiger Bureaucracy Developmental Himalayan:

Paper Tiger Nayanika Mathur, 2016 Paper Tiger shifts the debate on state failure and opens up new understanding of the workings of the contemporary Indian state Fixing Governance from Below Masooda Bano, Professor of Development Studies Masooda Bano, 2025-11-03 In this book Masooda Bano critically examines the repeated failures of decentralizing education systems and promoting community participation as solutions to learning crises Drawing on compelling research from Pakistan India Nigeria and Indonesia the book reveals how international aid programs designed based on what works in Western contexts routinely misjudge local realities At the same time national governments implement costly donor approved reforms to gain international credibility while real on the ground issues remain unaddressed With sharp insights and thought provoking analysis this book calls for a fundamental shift in how we approach educational reform one that respects local contexts prioritizes genuine accountability and moves beyond one size fits all solutions Patching Development Rajesh Veeraraghavan, 2021-12-24 Diving into an original and unusually positive case study from India Patching Development shows how development programs can be designed to work How can development programs deliver benefits to marginalized citizens in ways that expand their rights and freedoms Political will and good policy design are critical but often insufficient due to resistance from entrenched local power systems In Patching Development Rajesh Veeraraghavan presents an ethnography of one of the largest development programs in the world the Indian National Rural Employment Guarantee Act NREGA and examines NREGA's implementation in the South Indian state of Andhra Pradesh He finds that the local system of power is extremely difficult to transform not because of inertia but because of coercive counter strategy from actors at the last mile and their ability to exploit information asymmetries Upper level NREGA bureaucrats in Andhra Pradesh do not possess the capacity to change the power axis through direct confrontation with local elites but instead have relied on a continuous series of responses that react to local implementation and information a process of patching development Patching development is a top down fine grained iterative socio technical process that makes local information about implementation visible through technology and enlists participation from marginalized citizens through social audits These processes are neither neat nor orderly and have led to a contentious sphere where the exercise of power over documents institutions and technology is intricate fluid and highly situated A highly original account with global significance this book casts new light on the challenges and benefits of using information and technology in novel ways to implement development programs Routledge Handbook of Highland Asia Jelle J.P. Wouters, Michael T. Heneise, 2022-08-09 The Routledge Handbook of Highland Asia is the first comprehensive and critical overview of the ethnographic and anthropological work in Highland Asia over the past half a century Opening up a grand new space for critical engagement the handbook presents Highland Asia as a world region that cuts across the traditional divides inherited from colonial and Cold War area divisions the Indian Subcontinent South Asia Southeast Asia China East Asia and Central Asia Thirty two chapters assess the history of research identify ethnographic trends and evaluate a range of analytical themes that developed in particular settings of Highland Asia. They cover varied landscapes and communities from Kyrgyzstan to India from Bhutan to Vietnam and bring local voices and narratives relating trade and tribute, ritual and resistance, pilgrimage and prophecy, modernity and marginalization, capital and cosmos to the fore. The handbook shows that for millennia Highland Asians have connected far flung regions through movements of peoples, goods and ideas and at all times have been the enactors, repositories and mediators of world historical processes. Taken together the contributors and chapters subvert dominant lowland narratives by privileging primarily highland vantages that reveal Highland Asia as an ecumene and prism that refracts and generates global history, social theory and human imagination. In the currently unfolding Asian Century this compels us to reorient and re-envision Highland Asia in ethnography, in theory and in the connections between this world region, made of hills, highlands and mountains and a planetary context. The handbook reveals both regional commonalities and diversities, generalities and specificities and a broad orientation to key themes in the region. An indispensable reference work, this handbook fills a significant gap in the literature and will be of interest to academics, researchers and students interested in Highland Asia. Zomia Studies, Anthropology, Comparative Politics, Conceptual History and Sociology, Southeast Asian Studies, Central Asian Studies and South Asian Studies as well as Asian Studies in general.

Crooked Cats Nayanika Mathur, 2021-07-12. The last decade has seen the increasing entry of big cats, lions, tigers and leopards into human settlements in India. Most big cats co-reside with humans. But some have become crooked, killing people, often serially and frightening residents in villages and cities. This new book by big cat connoisseur and anthropologist Nayanika Mathur lays bare the peculiar atmosphere of terror these encounters create, reinforced by stories, conspiracy theories, rumors, anger and news reports about charismatic celebrity cats. There are various theories of why and how a big cat turns to eating people and Mathur lays out the dominant ideas offered by the residents with whom she works. These vary from the effects of climate change and habitat loss to history and politics. The latter, for example, include the idea of big cats turning on humans for retribution for past injustices, poaching or hunting. Still, no one, including the scientists who study animal behavior, has been able to explain the highly individualized reasons why some cats turn against humans and others do not. Beautifully detailed in its portrayal of India's places, people and animals, Crooked Cats sheds light on how we understand nonhuman animals and the growing intensity of human-nonhuman conflict in the Anthropocene.

Paper Tiger Nayanika Mathur, 2016. A big cat overthrows the Indian state and establishes a reign of terror over the residents of a Himalayan town. A welfare legislation aimed at providing employment and commanding a huge budget becomes unimplementable in a region bedeviled by high levels of poverty and unemployment. Paper Tiger provides a lively ethnographic account of how such seemingly bizarre scenarios come to be in contemporary India. Based on eighteen months of intensive fieldwork, this book presents a unique explanation for why and how progressive laws can do what they do and not ever so often what they are supposed to do. It reveals the double-edged effects of the reforms that have been ushered in by the post liberalization Indian state particularly the effort to render itself more transparent and accountable Through a meticulous detailing of everyday bureaucratic life on the Himalayan borderland Paper Tiger makes an argument for shifting the very frames of thought through which we apprehend the workings of the developmental Indian state Paper Tiger? Nayanika Mathur,2010 Crooked Cats Nayanika Mathur,2021-07-12 Big cats tigers leopards and lions that make prey of humans are commonly known as man eaters Anthropologist Nayanika Mathur reconceptualizes them as cats that have gone off the straight path to become crooked Building upon fifteen years of research in India this groundbreaking work moves beyond both colonial and conservationist accounts to place crooked cats at the center of the question of how we are to comprehend a planet in crisis There are many theories on why and how a big cat comes to prey on humans with the ecological collapse emerging as a central explanatory factor Yet uncertainty over the precise cause of crookedness persists Crooked Cats explores in vivid detail the many lived complexities that arise from this absence of certain knowledge to offer startling new insights into both the governance of nonhuman animals and their intimate entanglements with humans Through creative ethnographic storytelling Crooked Cats illuminates the Anthropocene in three critical ways as method as a way of reframing human nonhuman relations on the planet and as a political tool indicating the urgency of academic engagement Weaving together beastly tales spun from encounters with big cats Mathur deepens our understanding of the causes consequences and conceptualization of the climate crisis Leviathan Or Paper Tiger Sanjog Rupakheti,2012 This dissertation is based on a range of previously unstudied archival sources It reveals the fragmented nature of power in the Himalayas through much of the eighteenth century This was the time when a coalition of families identified as House of Gorkha began to consolidate its control in the region Unlike the other South Asian states of the eighteenth century the Nepali state did not grow by focusing on military power but by the intertwined strategies of literary and religious patronage the creation of genealogies and legal codes and the politicization of ritual and rank The hierarchical distribution of privileges and exemptions shaped by family clan and gender relations generated regimes of power that over time developed into a state system and established Nepal on its path to monarchy Sensitivity to dispersed sites of power such as the household family and clan enables us to understand the nineteenth century processes by which legal codes came to be invested with great authority This is especially true of the compilation called the Ain of 1854 Scholars of legal history have compared it to the British Indian Legal Code of 1837 and 1861 My research demonstrates instead that it was a document which projected the political juridical claims of the House of Gorkha over laboring groups and its right to collect income from fines In other words the struggle to define moral law using the Ain was intended to establish clear claims of one group to the labor and fealty of others The House of Gorkha pushed for social differentiation through the Ain The concept of justice in that code was status differentiated The eminence of the family and clan mattered for this reason In turn the eminence of a family rested on the successful management of marriage relations Thus social relationships were not trans historical fossilized entities but fully sensitive to the political economic flows of the period In historically plotting the lineage of one such state in Nepal my research urges nationalist and post colonial historians of South Asia not to treat colonial and national boundaries as being impermeable to history The People of India Ravinder Kaur,Nayanika Mathur,2022-09-19

The People and New India are terms that are being invoked freely to both understand and govern India as she enters her 75th year of post colonial nationhood Yet there is little clarity on who these people of India really are what they do their desires histories and attachments to India Similarly the phrase New India is used far too loosely to explain away a dangerously confounding politics In this book some of the most respected scholars of South Asia come together to write about a person or a concept that holds particular sway in the politics of contemporary India In doing so they collectively open up an original understanding of what the politics at the heart of New India are and how best we might come to analyse them This brilliant collection put together by Ravinder Kaur and Nayanika Mathur includes original and accessible essays by leading social science and humanities scholars of South Asia Paper Tigers!!! ,2011 A zine created by the artist video collective Paper Tiger Television The zine provides critical analysis of mass media
