Japan's Peace-Building Diplomacy in Asia Peng Er Lam,2009-06-02 The conventional portrayal of Japan s role in international affairs is of a passive political player which despite its position as the world s second largest economic power punches below its weight on the world stage its foreign policy driven by Washington mercantilism and constrained by domestic pacifism This book examines Japan's emerging identity as an important participant in conflict prevention and peace building in Southeast and South Asia demonstrating that Japan has increasingly sought a positive and active political role commensurate with its economic pre-eminence. The book considers Japanese involvement in many of the region's most serious recent conflicts including Japan's part in the brokering and maintaining of peace in Cambodia which in 1992 saw the first dispatch of troops abroad by Tokyo since the end of World War II and the attempts to bring peace to Aceh, Sri Lanka, East Timor and Mindanao. The Japanese example when compared with other countries prominent in the fields of conflict prevention suggests that Tokyo given its pacifist strategic culture relies on diplomacy and Official Development Assistance rather than peace enforcement through military means. Overall this book provides a lucid appraisal of Japan's overall foreign policy as well as its new role in conflict prevention and peace building analysing the reasons behind this shift towards an active international role and assessing the degree of success it has enjoyed.

The Peacebuilding Process in Postwar Liberia Alžběta Šváblová, 2021. Who are the most important actors in the peacebuilding process in post-war Liberia? How do they interact in specific institutions on the ground and what are the factors behind the slow pace of the post-war reform process? This book designed as a qualitative case study with a strong descriptive component provides answers to these questions. It highlights the importance of the domestic political landscape for the ultimate fate of the reforms and the role of influential individuals in the process. Its findings indicate that despite a rich critical academic debate the current practice of peacebuilding remains shaped by the neo-liberal paradigm and remains rather disconnected from the post-conflict realities and individuals on the ground.

Post-Conflict Rebuilding and International Law Ray Murphy, 2017-03-02

This volume presents the research analysis of a range of scholars and experts on post conflict peacebuilding and international law from a variety of perspectives and missions The selected essays show that peacebuilding like the concept of peacekeeping is not specifically provided for in the UN Charter They also demonstrate that the record of peacebuilding like that of peacekeeping is varied and while both concepts are intrinsically linked neither lends itself to precise definition The essays consider the historical approaches to peacebuilding such as the role played by the UN in the Congo in the early 1960s and the work of the United States and its allies in rebuilding Germany and Japan in the aftermath of World War II Finally essays consider the major challenge for contemporary peacebuilding operations to make international administrations accountable and to ensure the involvement of the international community in helping rebuild communities and prevent the resurgence of violence

Journal of Peacebuilding & Development ,2002 Routledge Companion to Peace and Conflict Studies Sean Byrne,Thomas Matyók,Imani Michelle Scott,Jessica Senehi,2019-07-24 This Companion examines contemporary challenges in Peace and Conflict Studies PACS and offers practical solutions to these problems Bringing together chapters from new and established global scholars the volume explores and critiques the foundations of Peace and Conflict Studies in an effort to advance the discipline in light of contemporary local and global actors The book examines the following eight specific components of Peace and Conflict Studies Peace and conflict studies praxis Structure agency tension as it relates to social justice nonviolence and relationship building Gender masculinity and sexuality The role of partnerships and allies in racial ethnic and religious peacebuilding Culture and identity Critical and emancipatory peacebuilding International conflict transformation and peacebuilding Global responses to conflict It argues that new critical and emancipatory peacebuilding and conflict transformation strategies are needed to address the complex cultural economic political and social conflicts of the 21st century This book will be of much interest to students of peace and conflict studies peace studies conflict resolution transitional justice reconciliation studies social justice studies and international relations

Peace Research ,2007 EU-UN Cooperation in Peacebuilding Catriona Gourlay,2009 This report explores the partnership between the EU and the UN in peacebuilding It shows that although both organizations employ a mix of crisis management instruments and aid intended to address structural risk factors there is little agreement on what works and how these instruments should be combined It confirms that the European Commission funding relationship with the UN is increasingly significant in fragile states while policies are not always aligned This report argues that the key to strengthening operational partnerships is to move the needs assessment planning priority setting and resource allocation to the country level and to ensure that assistance is controlled by a partnership of national and international actors back cover

Transition to Peace Ho-Won Jeong,2021-10-15 This book enhances our understanding of how societies torn by violence can be rebuilt Instabilities in those societies continue to be fuelled by political marginalization economic social inequality violent crimes and injustice Historically international response has been largely inadequate due to a failure of adaptation to local circumstances This collection focuses on how peacebuilding programmes can be more effectively carried out to create a more functional society In a nutshell this volume sheds light on local practice and experiences that can be utilized to meet unique circumstances of countries that have suffered from a destructive conflict The collection will investigate the transition to peace by highlighting the missing links between peacebuilding norms and practice political economy emotions justice and reconciliation Journal of Peace Research ,2006-11

Statebuilding and Intervention David Chandler,2009 This edited book sets out and engages with some of the key policies practices and paradigms of external intervention in the case of state support and reconstruction Many assumptions about statebuilding have been reconsidered in the wake of Iraq and ongoing problems in other states such as Afghanistan Bosnia and Kosovo Rather than being a regional survey or a policy orientated lessons learned book this collection explores the broader framing of policy goals statebuilding practices and the consensus on the need for Western states and international institutions to be engaged in this policy area The volume is divided into three parts the first engages with some of the key policy frameworks and conceptual issues raised by recent statebuilding interventions the second considers core statebuilding practices and the third reconsiders statebuilding paradigms more broadly The essays open up debate and critical discussion in the field at a time when many advocates of extending statebuilding intervention suggest that the complex nature of the problems of non Western states and societies mean that it will inevitably be contradictory and limited in its results Foreign Affairs ,2006

Post-Conflict Peacebuilding Vincent Chetail,2009-03-26 Post Conflict Peacebuilding comes at a critical time for post conflict peacebuilding Its rapid move towards the top of the international political agenda has been accompanied by added scrutiny as the international community seeks to meet the multi dimensional challenges of building a just and sustainable peace in societies ravaged by war Beyond the strictly operational dimension there is considerable ambiguity in the concepts and terminology used to discuss post conflict peacebuilding This ambiguity undermines efforts to agree on common understandings of how peace can be most effectively built thereby impeding swift coherent action Accordingly this lexicon aims to clarify and illuminate the multiple facets of post conflict peacebuilding by presenting its major themes and trends from an analytical perspective To this end the book opens with a general introduction on the concept of post conflict peacebuilding followed by twenty six essays on its key elements including capacity building conflict transformation reconciliation recovery rule of law security sector reform and transitional justice Written by international experts from a range of disciplines including political science and international relations international law economics and sociology these essays cover the whole spectrum of post conflict peacebuilding In reflecting a diversity of perspectives the lexicon sheds light on many different challenges associated with post conflict peacebuilding For each key concept a generic definition is proposed which is then expanded through discussion of three main areas the meaning and origin of the concept its content and essential components and its means of implementation including lessons learned from past practice Peacebuilding in Traumatized Societies Barry Hart, 2008-02-26 This work examines trauma identity security education and development as issues of critical importance to peacebuilding and social reconstruction after large scale violence This violence takes the form of war mass killings and genocide as well as structural violence that has humiliated and impoverished millions of people across the globe Transitional justice leadership religion and the arts are other crucial issues that are included in this analysis of violence and its transformation The book explores how each issue can be independently addressed for transformational purposes but argues for their active interdependence in order to more effectively help individuals communities and societies emerge from violence and begin the rebuilding process Peacebuilding for Traumatized Societies examines these issues in theoretical and practical terms through case studies and descriptions of training and problem solving procedures in Rwanda the Balkans Colombia and the Philippines Civil Society Under Strain Jude Howell, Jeremy Lind, 2010 Civil Society Under Strain investigates the convergence of aid and security objectives following the September 11 attacks
