Comments in the Gospel of John David A. Lamb,2024-12-15 Scholars have long noted that comments by the author or editor often referred to as narrative asides or parentheses are frequent in the Fourth Gospel The Function of Narrative Comments in the Gospel of John A Literary and Linguistic Analysis is a comprehensive guide to this significant feature In the vein of Gilbert Van Belle s Les Parenthèses dans l'vangile de Jean 1985 Lamb provides a detailed analysis of the terminology definition and categorization of these comments and interacts extensively with existing scholarship He looks at the role of the comments in the Gospel s composition assesses their function using insights from literary theory dramatic theory and sociolinguistics and makes comparisons with OT historical writings the Synoptic Gospels and the works of Herodotus and Thucydides He concludes that the narrative comments are an integral part of the text which reflect the authority of the author and that they have significant implications for our exegesis of the Gospel

Dialogicity in Written Specialised Genres

Luz Gil-Salom,Carmen Soler-Monreal,2014-07-15 Dialogicity in Written Specialised Genres analyses how human beings intentionally establish a network of relations that contribute to the construction of discourse in different genres in academic promotional and professional domains in English Spanish and Italian The chapters in the present volume investigate individual voices both those assumed by the writer and those attributed to others and how they act interpersonally and become explicit in the discourse From a number of different research approaches contributing authors focus on various textual components self mention impersonation attribution markers engagement markers attitude markers boosters hedges reporting verbs politeness strategies and citations The collection is unusual in that it addresses these issues not only from the perspective of English but also from that of Spanish and Italian It thus represents a refreshing reassessment of the contrastive dimension in the study of voice and dialogic relations taking into consideration language specialised fields and genre The volume will appeal to researchers interested in language as multidimensional dialogue particularly with regard to different written specialised texts from different linguistic backgrounds Novice writers may also find it of help in order to attain a greater understanding of the dialogic nature of writing

Emotion in Discourse

J. Lachlan Mackenzie,Laura Alba-Juez,2019-03-15 Interest in human emotion no longer equates to unscientific speculation 21st century humanities scholars are paying serious attention to our capacity to express emotions and giving rigorous explanations of affect in language We are unquestionably witnessing an emotional turn not only in linguistics but also in other fields of scientific research Emotion in Discourse follows from and reflects on this scholarly awakening to the world of emotion and in particular to its intricate relationship with human language The book presents both the state of the art and the latest research in an effort to unravel the various workings of the expression of emotion in discourse It takes an interdisciplinary approach for emotion is a multifarious phenomenon whose functions in language are enlightened by such other disciplines as psychology neurology or communication studies The volume shows not only how emotion manifests at different linguistic levels but also how it relates to aspects like linguistic appraisal emotional intelligence or humor as well as covering its occurrence in various genres including scientific discourse. As such the book contributes to an emerging interdisciplinary field which could be labeled emotionology transcending previous linguistic work and providing an updated characterization of how emotion functions in human discourse. Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts, 2009-04

Academic Evaluation Ken Hyland, Giuliana Diani, 2009-08-12 Summary from OCLC Academic criticism can be highly fraught and threatening potentially wounding to the reviewed author and disruptive to the discipline but it occurs routinely in review genres. This book explores how academics publically evaluate each others work. Focusing on blurbs book reviews, review articles and literature reviews the international contributors to the volume show how writers manage to critically engage with others ideas, argue their own viewpoints and establish academic credibility while simultaneously navigating these risky interactions. Pragmatics, 2012 Studies in the Literary Imagination, 2019 MLA International Bibliography of Books and Articles on the Modern Languages and Literatures, 2006 The British National Bibliography

Arthur James Wells, 2005 Disciplinary Discourses Ken Hyland, 2000 Applied Linguistics and Language Study General Editor Christopher N Candlin Chair Professor of Applied Linguistics Centre for English Language Education Communication Research Department of English City University of Hong Kong Hong Kong Since it was first established in the 1970's the Applied Linguistics and Language Study series has become a major force in the study of practical problems in human communication and language education. Drawing extensively on empirical research and theoretical work in linguistics, sociology, psychology and education the series explores key issues in language acquisition and language use. Disciplinary Discourses Social Interactions in Academic Writing presents a series of innovative studies focusing on eight disciplines and a variety of key genres to examine the relationships between the cultures of academic communities and their discoursal practices. It proposes a framework to account for the interactions between writers and their readers in published academic writing, draws clear teaching suggestions and offers detailed methodological principles and suggestions to support further research. Drawing on discourse analysis, corpus linguistics and the voices of professional insiders Ken Hyland explores how academics use language to organise their professional lives, carry out intellectual tasks and reach agreement on what will count as knowledge. Through its focus on the features of key genres this book shows what close textual analyses can reveal about the social practices and institutional ideologies of different academic communities and at the same time provides a clear basis for further research. The theoretical and descriptive accounts have strong practical implications for the understanding of academic writing and disciplinary communities. It will therefore be of great interest to teachers and students of academic writing, English for Specific Purposes and discourse analysis more generally. Ken Hyland is an Associate Professor in the Department of English City University of Hong Kong. Applied Linguistics, 2004 Jezik in slovstvo, 2007 El diálogo oral en el mundo hispanohablante Lars Fant, Anamaria Harvey, 2011 Partiendo de una concepción dialógica del lenguaje, esta colección de once trabajos dedicados al estudio del discurso oral en español ofrece a los analistas del
