The Oxford Handbook of Entertainment Theory Peter

Vorderer, Christoph Klimmt, 2021-02-12. The proliferation of new digital technologies has given rise to an entirely changed media landscape and revolutionized how we seek entertainment. Older entertainment media like novels, radio and film have been joined by a host of digital media that smartphones allow us to carry almost anywhere and at all times from video games and social media to video on demand services. This unprecedented ubiquity of entertainment media calls for new and more sophisticated theories that help us understand the fascination that different entertainment media exert on us and how they change the human experience. The Oxford Handbook of Entertainment Theory surveys and furthers the most influential psychology driven research on media entertainment to illuminate how people are drawn into media experiences. The 41 chapters in this Handbook not only offer fresh perspectives on established theories but also introduce emerging models and highlight the importance of considering the diverse backgrounds of media users when conducting research. They also cover the motivations and reactions of media users in relationship to different types of media the trend towards interactive media such as video games and virtual reality and particularly popular media contents like sexuality violence sports and the news As the most comprehensive overview of psychology based research on media entertainment available this Handbook is an invaluable resource for seasoned researchers and those beginning to learn about the field alike Corrective Reading, Series Guide McGraw Hill,2007-08-20 Series Guide The Complete Idiot's Guide to Starting Your Own Business Ed Paulson,Marcia Layton,1995 Act on your dreams of starting a business with this lighthearted user friendly guide that provides expert advice on business planning financing legal concerns and marketing issues all the information one needs to become his or her own boss Line drawings Study Guide & Activity Manual to Accompany Joseph A.
