Source: Federal Reserve, Federal Housing Finance Agency (Aug 2022). Annual percentage changes shown using monthly data. Mortgage rate data is based on the 30-year fixed rate mortgage average in the United States and is not seasonally adjusted. House price data is from the Not Seasonally Adjusted Purchase Only Index. The FHFA House Price Index is a weighted, repeat-sales index, meaning that it measures average price changes in repeat sales on the same properties. This information is obtained by reviewing repeat mortgage transactions on single-family properties whose mortgages have been purchased or securitized by Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac since January 1992.

How Do High Interest Rates Affect Banks Romain Bouis, Sumaiyah R Mirza, Erlend Nier, 2025-09-26 This paper examines empirically how the effect of interest rates on the three components of bank profits loan loss provisions net interest margin and non interest income varies depending on bank characteristics and the macroprudential policy environment A new finding is that higher interest rates lead to larger loan loss provisions for banks offering flexible rate loans but that this effect is attenuated when macroprudential borrower based measures have been tight in preceding years Tighter macroprudential settings also reduce the effect of higher unemployment on loan loss provisions recorded by banks and thereby the negative impact of unemployment on profitability Moreover we find significant heterogeneity across banks banks with strong risk appetite that extend loans at flexible rates are adversely affected by higher interest rates as the effect on loan losses dominates the effect on the interest margin while the profitability of other banks benefits on average from higher interest rates
