Neptunes Inferno The U S Navy At Guadalcanal:

Neptune's Inferno James D. Hornfischer, 2011-01-25 A literary tour de force that is destined to become one of the definitive works about the battle for Guadalcanal James D Hornfischer deftly captures the essence of the most pivotal naval campaign of the Pacific war San Antonio Express News The Battle of Guadalcanal has long been heralded as a Marine victory Now with his powerful portrait of the Navy's sacrifice James D Hornfischer tells for the first time the full story of the men who fought in destroyers cruisers and battleships in the narrow deadly waters of Ironbottom Sound Here in stunning cinematic detail are the seven major naval actions that began in August 1942 a time when the war seemed unwinnable and America fought on a shoestring with the outcome always in doubt Working from new interviews with survivors unpublished eyewitness accounts and newly available documents Hornfischer paints a vivid picture of the officers and enlisted men who opposed the Japanese in America's hour of need The first major work on this subject in almost two decades Neptune's Inferno does what all great battle narratives do It tells the gripping human stories behind the momentous events and critical decisions that altered the course of history and shaped so many lives Praise for Neptune's Inferno Vivid and engaging extremely readable comprehensive and thoroughly researched Ronald Spector The Wall Street Journal Superlative storytelling the masterwork on the long neglected topic of World War II's surface ship combat Richard B Frank World War II The author's two previous World War II books thrust him into the major leagues of American military history writers Neptune's Inferno is solid proof he deserves to be there The Dallas Morning News Outstanding The author's narrative gifts and excellent choice of detail give an almost Homeric quality to the men who met on the sea in steel titans Booklist starred review Brilliant a compelling narrative of naval combat simply superb The Washington Times

Witness to Neptune's Inferno David F. Winkler, 2024-03-15 a tantalizing window into Mustin's experiences during the early years of the conflict with vivid details captured by Mustin's war diary and his personal recollections of the Battle of Guadalcanal from a naval perspective American Rifleman 1942 would prove crucial for the United States in the Pacific following the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and a series of setbacks in the Southwest As the first ship commissioned following America's entry into World War II the light cruiser USS Atlanta would be thrust into the Pacific fight joining the fleet in time for the pivotal battle of Midway and on to the Guadalcanal campaign in the Southwest Pacific Embarked was an exceptionally astute observer Lieutenant Commander Lloyd M Mustin who faithfully recorded his thoughts on the conflict in a standard canvas covered logbook Diaries were not supposed to be kept by those serving in the U S Navy during World War II and for good reason If recovered by the Japanese they would likely have revealed that the Japanese code had been broken prior to the battle of Midway Thus Mustin's diary is a rare day to day accounting of the Pacific from a very opinionated mid grade officer Beginning with the commissioning of Atlanta at the Brooklyn Navy Yard on Christmas Eve 1941 Mustin covers the ship's workups and her deployment to the Pacific in time for the battle of Midway It's then on to the Southwest Pacific where the ship first engages enemy aircraft at the battle of the Eastern Solomons in late August 1942 Mustin's final entry covers the battle of Santa Cruz in late October 1942. The story is completed by an account of the battle of Guadalcanal and beyond drawing upon Mustin's oral history. This is a valuable document fully interpreted to provide a better understanding of the Pacific War during that critical year. World War II at Sea Craig L. Symonds, 2018. Craig L. Symonds' World War II at Sea offers a definitive naval history of the Second World War presenting the chronology of the naval war from The London Conference of 1930 to the surrender in Tokyo Bay in 1945 on a global scale for the first time. Annapolis Goes to War Craig L. Symonds, 2025-05-05. America's preeminent naval historian offers a history of the Second World War based on the experiences of the young officers fresh out of the United States Naval Academy who served on its front lines. They arrived in Annapolis as teenagers the year Hitler re-occupied the Rhineland and graduated as young men the week the British Army evacuated Dunkirk. Annapolis Goes to War tells the story of their four transformative years at the Naval Academy and then four more annealing years in the cauldron of war. More than a hundred of them were on duty in Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941. Ten of them died that day; seven remain entombed in the USS Arizona still. Over the next four years these former Midshipmen participated in virtually every significant engagement in both the Atlantic and the Pacific from Pearl Harbor to Tokyo Bay from North Africa to Normandy. They were at the front edge of the war in battleships, carriers, destroyers, submarines, and airplanes and led Marine Corps units ashore. Some experienced the war as prisoners of the Japanese. Fifty-six of them died in the Second World War, the greatest wartime loss any service academy ever experienced. Taking readers into and through the lives of these young men in wartime, Craig Symonds offers a poignant and powerful story of adjustment, growth, pain, loss, and eventually triumph. Using their diaries, memoirs, and letters, he evokes unforgettably their trials and bonds, their loss of innocence, and their discovery of the meaning of sacrifice. Annapolis Goes to War is essential reading for anyone seeking to understand the experience of fighting the bloodiest war in human history. On Board the USS Boise in World War II Ian S. Bertram, 2025-09-17. The story of the USS Boise CL 47 is one of fear, loss, endurance, fame, triumph, and pain. The light cruiser endured a remarkable career through the entirety of World War II with a redemption arc that took its crew from the position of scapegoats to heroes and ultimately to the vanguard of America's liberation forces. One man, Donald DB Fitch, witnessed the entire conflict from his battle station on the bridge. The ship conducted secret missions and fought at Guadalcanal, Sicily, New Guinea, and the Philippines. Through Fitch's eyes, this book relives the terrors and thrills of naval combat along with the pranks, shenanigans, and the rumors that were the lifeblood of a ship through four years of war. Fitch and his friends fought for each other and their country and, in the end, they left their mark on history. U.S. Naval Institute Proceedings United States Naval Institute, 2014. Battleship Commander Paul L. Stillwell, 2021-10-15. This is the first ever biography of Vice Admiral Willis A. Lee Jr. who served a key role during World War II in the Pacific. Recognizing the achievements and legacy of one of the war's top combat admirals has been long overdue until now. Battleship Commander explores Lee's life from boyhood in Kentucky through his eventual service as commander of the fast battleships from 1942 to 1945 Paul Stillwell draws on more than 150 first person accounts from those who knew and served with Lee from boyhood until the time of his death Said to be down to earth modest forgiving friendly and with a wry sense of humor Lee eschewed the media and to the extent possible left administrative details to others Stillwell relates the sequential building of a successful career illustrating Admiral Lee's focus on operational tactical and strategic concerns During his service in the Navy Department from 1939 to 1942 Lee prepared the U S Navy for war at sea and was involved in inspecting designs for battleships cruisers aircraft carriers and destroyers He sent observers to Britain to report on Royal Navy operations during the war against Germany and made plans to send an action team to mainland China to observe conditions for possible later Allied landings there Putting his focus on the need to equip U S warships with radar and antiaircraft guns Lee was one of the few flag officers of his generation who understood the tactical advantage of radar especially during night battles In 1942 Willis Lee became commander of the first division of fast battleships to operate in the Pacific During that service he commanded Task Force 64 which achieved a tide turning victory in a night battle near Guadalcanal in November 1942 Lee missed two major opportunities for surface actions against the Japanese In June 1944 in the Marianas campaign he declined to engage because his ships were not trained adequately to operate together in surface battles In October 1944 Admiral William Halsey's bungled decisions denied Lee's ships an opportunity for combat Continuing his career of service near the end of the war Lee in the summer of 1945 directed anti kamikaze research efforts in Casco Bay Maine While Lee's wartime successes and failures make for compelling reading what is here in this biography is a balanced look at the man and officer

Anatomy of Victory John D. Caldwell, 2018-11-09 This groundbreaking book provides the first systematic comparison of America's modern wars and why they were won or lost John D Caldwell uses the World War II victory as the historical benchmark for evaluating the success and failure of later conflicts Unlike WWII the Korean Vietnam and Iraqi Wars were limited but they required enormous national commitments produced no lasting victories and generated bitter political controversies Caldwell comprehensively examines these four wars through the lens of a strategic architecture to explain how and why their outcomes were so dramatically different He defines a strategic architecture as an interlinked set of continually evolving policies strategies and operations by which combatant states work toward a desired end Policy defines the high level goals a nation seeks to achieve once it initiates a conflict or finds itself drawn into one Policy makers direct a broad course of action and strive to control the initiative When they make decisions they have to respond to unforeseen conditions to guide and determine future decisions Effective leaders are skilled at organizing constituencies they need to succeed and communicating to them convincingly Strategy means employing whatever resources are available to achieve policy goals in situations that are dynamic as conflicts change quickly over time Operations are the actions that occur when politicians soldiers and diplomats execute plans A strategic architecture Caldwell argues is thus not a static blueprint but a dynamic
