Neufert Architects Data:

Architects' Data Ernst Neufert, Peter Neufert, 2012-03-26 Neufert's Architects Data is an essential reference for the initial design and planning of a building project. It provides in one concise volume the core information needed to form the framework for the more detailed design and planning of any building project. Organised largely by building type, it covers the full range of preliminary considerations and with over 6200 diagrams, it provides a mass of data on spatial requirements. Most illustrations are dimensioned and each building type includes plans, sections, site layouts and design details. An extensive bibliography and a detailed set of metric/imperial conversion tables are included. Since it was first published in Germany in 1936, Ernst Neufert's handbook has been progressively revised and updated through 39 editions and many translations. This fourth English language edition is translated from the 39th German edition and represents a major new edition for an international English speaking readership. Reviews of the Previous Edition: Neufert's Architects Data was the first book I bought when I started my studies in architecture. It was invaluable for me then and it is still a useful aid in my designs. Cesar Pelli. With this thorough rewrite, Neufert has produced yet again an invaluable reference book. The Architects Journal.

Architects' Data Ernst Neufert, 2019-08-05 An indispensable tool for the beginning stages of designing and planning a building project. This new edition of a classic bestselling text provides in one concise volume the essential information needed to form the framework for the more detailed design and development of any building project. Organized largely by building type, it covers planning criteria and considerations of function and siting and with over 6200 diagrams, it provides a mass of data on spatial requirements. Most of the featured illustrations are dimensioned and each building type includes plans, sections, site layouts and design details. The book also includes an extensive bibliography and detailed set of metric/imperial conversion tables. Architects Data starts with the basics of designing for a new building project before moving on to covering everything an architect needs to know. It also looks at the design styles and specifications for creating different types of structures such as those made for residential, religious, cultural, sports, medical and other types of occupation. Covers user requirements, planning criteria, basic dimensions and considerations of function and siting. Includes numerous examples and over 6200 illustrations and tables. 5th English edition of the classic international reference for architects. Architects Data is an excellent resource for architects, building surveyors, space planners and design and build contractors everywhere.

between architects and building workers. It considers individual as well as collective interactions with technical change and in doing so brings together for the first time an extraordinary range of sources including technical archives, oral history and visual material to describe the construction process both during and in the decades after the war. It focuses on the social aspects of production and the changes in working life for architects and building workers with increasing industrialization in particular, analysing the effect on the building process of introducing dimensionally coordinated components. Both architects and building workers have been accused of creating a built environment now popularly discredited: architects responsible for poor design and building workers for poor workmanship. However, many of the structures and ideas underpinning this period of rapid change were revolutionary in their commitment to a complete transformation of the building process. An Architecture of Parts adds to the growing literature on changes in the building world during and immediately after the Second World War. It is significant both empirically and historically in its examination of the ideas, technology and relationships that fired industrialization of the building process in mid-century Britain.

Architectures of Bureaucracy Jens van de Maele, 2025-01-27. This monograph examines the interrelationship between politics and modernist architecture in interwar Belgium, focusing on political, architectural and administrative elites as propagators of new ideas of governance. While Belgium was strongly influenced by neighbouring France and Germany, it also developed its own avant-garde approaches to socio-political problems. In the second half of the 1930s, the country was the scene of a remarkable political and architectural experiment involving an ambitious plan for the large-scale construction of modernist government office buildings. These buildings were seen as essential to the development of a technocratic model of governance aimed at strengthening the role of the executive and minimising the influence of parliament. More specifically, the efficient new office architecture was supposed to create a new type of perfect civil servant whose loyalties would no longer lie with political parties but with scientists and management experts. Such experts and scientists constituted a rising elite of homines novi with strong, though often veiled, political ambitions. As such, this book contributes to our understanding of political culture in the age of extremes.

Architectural Drawings as Investigating Devices Marianna Charitonidou, 2023-07-10. Architectural Drawings as Investigating Devices explores how the changing modes of representation in architecture and urbanism relate to the transformation of how the addressees of architecture and urbanism are conceived. The book diagnoses the dominant epistemological debates in architecture and urbanism during the 20th and 21st centuries. It traces their transformations, paying special attention to Le Corbusier and Ludwig Mies van der Rohe's preference for perspective representation to the diagrams of Team 10 architects, to the critiques of functionalism and the upgrade of the artefactual value of architectural drawings in Aldo Rossi, John Hejduk, Peter Eisenman and Oswald Mathias Ungers, and finally to the reinvention of architectural programme through the event in Bernard Tschumi and the Office for Metropolitan Architecture (OMA). Particular emphasis is placed on the spirit of truth and clarity in modernist architecture, the relationship between the individual and the community in post war era architecture the decodification of design process as syntactic analogy and the paradigm of autonomy in the 1970s and 1980s architecture the concern about the dynamic character of urban conditions and the potentialities hidden in architectural programme in the post autonomy era This book is based on extensive archival research in Canada the USA and Europe and will be of interest to architects artists researchers and students in architecture architectural history theory cultural theory philosophy and aesthetics Architectural Record ,1983 Protection of Historical Constructions Ioannis Vayas,Federico M. Mazzolani,2021-12-03 This book gathers the peer reviewed papers presented at the 4th International Conference on Protection of Historical Constructions PROHITECH held in Athens Greece on October 25 27 2021 The conference topics encompass structural and earthquake engineering intervention strategies materials and technologies digital documentation architecture and urban planning cultural heritage all of which represented by a showcase of case studies covering different construction materials as well as sustainability energy efficiency and adaptation to climate changes As such the book represents an invaluable up to the minute tool providing an essential overview of protection of historical constructions and offers an important platform to researchers engineers and architects

Gender Studies in Architecture Dörte Kuhlmann,2014-04-11 Analyzing a range of ideas from biological evolutionary and anthropological theories to a variety of feminist psychoanalytic poststructuralist and constructivist discourses this book provides a comprehensive introduction to the problematics of gender and power in architectural and urban design Topics range from conceptions of postulated matriarchal architecture in Old Europe to contemporary technologies of control from the mechanisms of gaze to architectural performatives from the under representation of women in the planning profession to the integration of gender issues to the curriculum The particular strengths of the book lie in its inclusiveness and critical analysis It is not a partisan defence of feminism or any other theory but a critical introduction to the issues relating to gender Moreover the conclusions reach beyond a narrow gender studies perspective to social and ethical considerations that are unavoidable in any responsible architectural or urbanistic practice With its broad range and balanced analysis of different theories the book is suitable as an overview of gender studies in architecture and useful for any designer who is concerned with the social effects of the built environment The Architects' Journal ,2002 Leadership in Architectural
