Neighboring Faiths Christianity Islam And Judaism In The Middle Ages And Today:

Neighboring Faiths David Nirenberg, 2014-10-20 Essays on how Jews Muslims and Christians have coexisted or not over the centuries from a particularly incisive and trustworthy historian of religion Commonweal Christianity Judaism and Islam are usually treated as autonomous religions but in fact across the long course of their histories the three religions have developed in interaction with one another In Neighboring Faiths David Nirenberg examines how Muslims Christians and Jews lived with and thought about each other during the Middle Ages and what the medieval past can tell us about how they do so today There have been countless scripture based studies of the three religions of the book but Nirenberg goes beyond those to pay close attention to how the three religious neighbors loved tolerated massacred and expelled each other all in the name of God in periods and places both long ago and far away Nirenberg argues that the three religions need to be studied in terms of how each affected the development of the others over time their proximity of religious and philosophical thought as well as their overlapping geographies and how the three neighbors define and continue to define themselves and their place in terms of one another From dangerous attractions leading to interfaith marriage to interreligious conflicts leading to segregation violence and sometimes extermination to strategies for bridging the interfaith gap through language vocabulary and poetry Nirenberg aims to understand the intertwined past of the three faiths as a way for their heirs to produce the future together Will be of extraordinary importance not only for specialists in the field but also for general readers and anyone interested in the relations among the three religions Teofilo F Ruiz University of California Los Angeles

How the West Became Antisemitic Ivan G. Marcus, 2025-08-05 An examination of how the Jews real and imagined so challenged the Christian majority in medieval Europe that it became a society that was religiously and culturally antisemitic in new ways In medieval Europe Jews were not passive victims of the Christian community as is often assumed but rather were startlingly assertive forming a Jewish civilization within Latin Christian society Both Jews and Christians considered themselves to be God's chosen people These dueling claims fueled the rise of both cultures as they became rivals for supremacy In How the West Became Antisemitic Ivan Marcus shows how Christian and Jewish competition in medieval Europe laid the foundation for modern antisemitism Marcus explains that Jews accepted Christians as misguided practitioners of their ancestral customs but regarded Christianity as idolatry Christians on the other hand looked at Jews themselves not Judaism as despised They directed their hatred at a real and imagined Jew theoretically subordinate but sometimes assertive an implacable enemy within In their view Jews were permanently and physically Jewish impossible to convert to Christianity Thus Christians came to hate Jews first for religious reasons and eventually for racial ones Even when Jews no longer lived among them medieval Christians could not forget their former neighbors Modern antisemitism based on the imagined Jew as powerful and world dominating is a transformation of this medieval hatred A sweeping and well documented history of the rivalry between Jewish and Christian civilizations during the making of Europe How the West Became Antisemitic is an ambitious new interpretation of the medieval world and its impact on modernity Cartography between Christian Europe and the Arabic-Islamic World, 1100-1500 ,2021-06-17 Medieval Christian European and Arabic Islamic cultures are both notable for the wealth and diversity of their geographical literature yet to date there has been relatively little attempt to compare medieval Christian and Islamic mapping traditions in a detailed manner Cartography between Christian Europe and the Arabic Islamic World offers a timely assessment of the level of interaction between the two traditions across a range of map genres including world and regional maps maps of the seven climes and celestial cartography Through a mixture of synthesis and case study the volume makes the case for significant but limited cultural transfer Contributors are Elly Dekker Jean Charles Duc ne Alfred Hiatt Yossef Rapoport Stefan Schr der Emmanuelle Vagnon The Parable of the Three Rings and the Idea of Religious Toleration in European Culture Iris Shagrir,2019-11-27 This book examines the premodern encounter between the three monotheistic religions through the unique prism of a premodern literary work The Parable of the Three Rings a poignant and charming tale of a father who had three sons and one precious ring By tradition he was to bequeath the ring to his heir but he loved his three sons equally so he had two new rings made crafted to be indistinguishable from the original and on his deathbed gave a ring to each son The narrator explains that the father is God and his sons are the Jews the Christians and the Muslims each believing themselves to be the sole upholders of the true religion A historical and literary study the book offers a comprehensive discussion of the various guises of the Parable from the early Middle Ages onwards and highlights its capacity to reflect openness and pluralism in the interfaith encounter Forced Conversion in Christianity, Judaism and Islam Mercedes García-Arenal,Yonatan Glazer-Eytan,2019-10-21 Focusing on the Iberian Peninsula but examining related European and Mediterranean contexts as well Forced Conversion in Christianity Judaism and Islam traces how Christians Jews and Muslims grappled with the contradictory phenomenon of faith brought about by constraint and compulsion Forced conversion brought into sharp relief the tensions among the accepted notion of faith as a voluntary act the desire to maintain pure communities and the universal truth claims of radical monotheism Offering a comparative view of an important yet insufficiently studied phenomenon in the history of religions this collection of essays explores the ways in which religion and violence reshaped these three religions and the ways we understand them today Early Modern Black Diaspora Studies Cassandra L. Smith,Nicholas R. Jones,Miles P. Grier,2018-10-03 Early Modern Black Diaspora Studies brings into conversation two fields Early Modern Studies and Black Studies that traditionally have had little to say to each other This disconnect is the product of current scholarly assumptions about a lack of archival evidence that limits what we can say about those of African descent before modernity This volume posits that the limitations are not in the archives but in the methods we have constructed for locating and examining those archives The essays that make up this volume offer new critical approaches to black African agency and the conceptualization of blackness in early modern literary works historical documents material and visual cultures and performance culture Ultimately this critical anthology revises current understandings about racial discourse and the cultural contributions of black Africans in early modernity and in the present across the globe After Conversion Mercedes García-Arenal, 2016-09-07 This book examines the religious and ideological consequences of mass conversion in Iberia where Jews and Muslims were forcibly converted or expelled at the end of the XVth century and beginning of the XVIth and in this way it explores the fraught relationship between origins and faith It treats also of the consequences of coercion on intellectual debates and the production of knowledge taking into account how integrating new converts from Judaism and Islam stimulated Christian scholars to confront the converts sacred texts and created a distinctive peninsular hermeneutics The book thus assesses the importance of the Converso problem in issues such as religious dissidence dissimulation and doubt and skepticism while establishing the process by which religious dissidence came to be categorized as heresy and was identified with converts from Judaism and Islam even when Lutheranism was often in the background Anti-Jewish Riots in the Crown of Aragon and the Royal Response, 1391-1392 Benjamin R.

Gampel, 2016-10-02 The most devastating attacks against the Jews of medieval Christian Europe took place during the riots that erupted in 1391 and 1392 in the lands of Castile and Aragon For ten horrific months hundreds if not thousands of Jews were killed numerous Jewish institutions destroyed and many Jews forcibly converted to Christianity Benjamin R Gampel explores why the famed convivencia of medieval Iberian society in which Christians Muslims and Jews seemingly lived together in relative harmony was conspicuously absent Using extensive archival evidence this critical volume explores the social religious political and economic tensions at play in each affected town The relationships biographies and personal dispositions of the royal family are explored to understand why monarchic authority failed to protect the Jews during these violent months Gampel s extensive study is essential for scholars and graduate students of medieval Iberian and Jewish history Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1997-12 Abingdon Dictionary of Living Religions Keith R. Crim, 1981 A guide to the historical development beliefs and practices of the world s religions Encyclopedia of Religion, 2005

Listening for the Text Brian Stock, 1990 Stock has opened up lines of thinking about the medieval world and our modern one too which lead in fascinating directions The Missionary Review, 1906 Under Crescent and Cross Mark R. Cohen, 2021-04-13 Did Muslims and Jews in the Middle Ages cohabit in a peaceful interfaith utopia Or were Jews under Muslim rule persecuted much as they were in Christian lands Rejecting both polemically charged ideas as myths Mark Cohen offers a systematic comparison of Jewish life in medieval Islam and Christendom and the first in depth explanation of why medieval Islamic Jewish relations though not utopic were less confrontational and violent than those between Christians and Jews in the West Under Crescent and Cross has been translated into Turkish Hebrew German Arabic French and Spanish and its historic message continues to be relevant across continents and time This updated edition which contains an important new introduction and afterword by the author serves as a great companion to the original The Missionary Review of the World, 1906 Paths of Faith John Alexander Hutchison, Rhona Robbin, 1981 Strategies of Medieval Communal

Identity Wout Jac. van Bekkum, Paul M. Cobb, 2004 The leading theme of this collection of essays and studies is the diversity of aspects of medieval communal identity. While the authors were selected for the very diversity of their interests their final papers do tend to cohere around some recurrent themes. All of the studies in this volume touch upon one or more of the complex issues that lie at the heart of religious identity in the Middle Ages. They do so through concrete study of the very real practices by which medieval Jews, Christians and Muslims could police the perimeters of their spiritual communities. The authors were especially urged to note instances where religious identity was shaped without reference to dogmas, creeds or sacred law. In no case are any of these papers satisfied with normative legal definitions of Jew, Christian or Muslim in medieval times. Sometimes small and subtle, sometimes explicit, dire and violent, the techniques that emerge from these studies testify to the diversity of strategies of medieval communal identity over space and their changes over time. World Christian Encyclopedia David B. Barrett, George Thomas Kurian, Todd M. Johnson, 2001 The expanded updated edition of a classic reference source, the comprehensive survey of the status of the world's largest religion in 238 countries. Many tables, charts, diagrams, maps, photographs and a rich text present an unmatched look at 33 800 Christian denominations, 12 000 dioceses, 5 000 missions and other groups all set against a detailed historical, political, social, cultural, demographic background. The American Hebrew, 1925 Perspectives, 1991
