Planetary Protection Classification of Sample Return Missions from the Martian Moons European Science Foundation,European Space Sciences Committee,National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine,Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences,Space Studies Board,Committee on Planetary Protection Requirements for Sample Return

Missions from Martian Moons, 2019-07-20 An international consensus policy to prevent the biological cross contamination of planetary bodies exists and is maintained by the Committee on Space Research COSPAR of the International Council for Science which is consultative to the United Nations Committee on the Peaceful Uses of Outer Space Currently COSPAR's planetary protection policy does not specify the status of sample return missions from Phobos or Deimos the moons of Mars Although the moons themselves are not considered potential habitats for life or of intrinsic relevance to prebiotic chemical evolution recent studies indicate that a significant amount of material recently ejected from Mars could be present on the surface of Phobos and to a lesser extent Deimos This report reviews recent theoretical experimental and modeling research on the environments and physical conditions encountered by Mars ejecta during certain processes It recommends whether missions returning samples from Phobos and or Deimos should be classified as restricted or unrestricted Earth return in the framework of the planetary protection policy maintained by COSPAR This report also considers the specific ways the classification of sample return from Deimos is a different case than sample return from Phobos
