Night Over Java A Novel:

Night Over Java Johan Fabricius, 1944      'Boredom is the Enemy' Amanda Laugesen, 2016-04-15 War is often characterised as one percent terror 99 per cent boredom Whilst much ink has been spilt on the one per cent relatively little work has been directed toward the other 99 per cent of a soldier's time As such this book will be welcomed by those seeking a fuller understanding of what makes soldiers endure war and how they cope with prolonged periods of inaction It explores the issue of military boredom and investigates how soldiers spent their time when not engaged in battle work or training through a study of their creative imaginative and intellectual lives It examines the efforts of military authorities to provide solutions to military boredom and the problem of discipline and morale through the provisioning of entertainment and education but more importantly explores the ways in which soldiers responded to such efforts arguing that soldiers used entertainment and education in ways that suited them The focus in the book is on Australians and their experiences primarily during the First World War but with subsequent chapters taking the story through the Second World War to the Vietnam War This focus on a single national group allows questions to be raised about what might or might not be exceptional about the experiences of a particular national group and the ways national identity can shape an individual's relationship and engagement with education and entertainment It can also suggest the continuities and changes in these experiences through the course of three wars The story of Australians at war illuminates a much broader story of the experience of war and people's responses to war in the twentieth century      Asia in Western fiction Robin Winks, 2017-03-01 Any reader who has ever visited Asia knows that the great bulk of Western language fiction about Asian cultures turns on stereotypes This book a collection of essays explores the problem of entering Asian societies through Western fiction since this is the major port of entry for most school children university students and most adults In the thirteenth century serious attempts were made to understand Asian literature for its own sake Hau Kioou Choaan a typical Chinese novel was quite different from the wild and magical pseudo Oriental tales European perceptions of the Muslim world are centuries old originating in medieval Christendom's encounter with Islam in the age of the Crusades There is explicit and sustained criticism of medieval mores and values in Scott's novels set in the Middle Ages and this is to be true of much English language historical fiction of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Even mediocre novels take on momentary importance because of the pervasive power of India The awesome remote and inaccessible Himalayas inevitably became for Western writers an idealised setting for novels of magic romance and high adventure and for travellers tales that read like fiction Chinese fictions flourish in many guises Most contemporary Hong Kong fiction reinforced corrupt mandarins barbaric punishments and heathens Of the novels about Japan published after 1945 two may serve to frame a discussion of Japanese behaviour as it could be observed or imagined by prisoners of war Black Fountains and Three Bamboos      The Novels of World War II Desmond Taylor, Philip E. Hager, 1993 This sequel to The Novels of World War I An Annotated Bibliography Garland 1981 covers 3 371 novels
