Wounds Through Just Memory Havannah Tran,2019 In his debut poetry collection Night Sky with Exit Wounds queer Vietnamese American refugee poet Ocean Vuong claims his work is an attempt to navigate history through a rewriting or rather a recasting of history into a mythology much in the tradition of our poetic forebears like Homer Dante Milton In this myth making closely related to memory and the constitution of empire I read Vuong s collection through scholar and novelist Viet Thanh Nguyen s just memory a way of memorialization that seeks to give voice to all people involved in conflict examines the conditions in which war memory is produced and explains how memory is in service of creating the identity of a nation I look at the poems Telemachus In Newport I Watch My Father Lay His Cheek to a Beached Dolphin s Wet Back My

Father Writes From Prison and To My Father To My Future Son as they constitute the mythology of the father a figure who creates memories of war that Vuong has no access to I use this framework in relation to its original intent as a way of configuring national identity through war memory but also in understanding a queer mythology Vuong puts forth one that also questions the American identity as a heteronormative ideal I turn to the poems Of Thee I Sing Seventh Circle of Earth Because It's Summer On Earth We're Briefly Gorgeous and Devotion in understanding this queer mythology What proceeds is a broad understanding of Vuong's poetry in its attempt to give voice to the voiceless and critique the identity identities of the United States    The Georgia Review ,2016    Princeton Review Digital SAT Prep, 2024 The Princeton
