Metro Area Networking McGraw Hill Networking Professional:

Metropolitan Area Networks Matthew N.O. Sadiku, 1994-12-27 The demand for communication networks has increased dramatically in the last few years creating a need for an intermediate network that operates over a metropolitan area at comparatively high data rates with simple protocols. With some characteristics of local area networks and wide area networks the metropolitan area network (MAN) technology reflects the best features of both. The motivations for MAN technology include:

- o interconnection of LANs
- o high speed services
- o integrated services

MANs can be used in the following areas: LAN interconnection, File transfer, Distributed processing, Remote services, Remote login. Metropolitan Area Networks provides an introduction to the key concepts of MANs in an easily understood style. Organized into five chapters, this unique book acts as an excellent reference for a beginner as well as for the veteran in the field. Topics include: Introductory and background information about MANs, Interworking devices, MAN topologies and key issues. Various popular protocols proposed for MANs, Modeling and performance analysis of common MAN topologies, Emerging MAN related technologies such as BISDN, ATM networks, frame relay, cell relay, SONET and SMDS. For a broad understanding of this expanding subject, Metropolitan Area Networks serves as the singular standard in the field.

MPLS for Metropolitan Area Networks Nam-Kee Tan, 2004-11-15

MPLS for Metropolitan Area Networks demonstrates solutions provided by MPLS features. The text opens with an overview of metro networks and MPLS. It examines traffic engineering issues focusing on fundamental TE concepts and network control. The author then discusses how MPLS can bring increased reliability to Metropolitan Area Networks (MANs) and concludes with a detailed analysis of the service aspects of MANs. Topics reviewed include L3 and L2 MPLS, VPNs, geographically dispersed Ethernet multipoint services, virtual private LAN services (VPLS) and the integrated services (IntServ) and differentiated services (DiffServ) QoS models with respect to MPLS.
