BOOK JACKET

Using Discussion to Promote Reading Comprehension Donna E. Alvermann, Deborah R. Dillon, David G. O'Brien, 1987 Drawing from observations of discussion in 24 different classrooms this book will provide preservice and inservice teachers at the middle and school levels with the motivation and knowledge to use discussion to foster student comprehension of content area text assignments The first chapter examines the distinctions between discussion and recitation and redefines major issues related to content area discussion in light of recent research and school reform reports The second chapter establishes a basis for the premise that discussion is important to the development of reading comprehension illustrating those skills that enrich or refine students understanding of text The third chapter uses portions of transcripts from videotaped content class discussions to illustrate how classroom context influences discussion practices Alternatives to teacher dominated discussions are described and guidelines are provided for establishing the rights and responsibilities of critical readers The fourth chapter demonstrates how to plan for classroom discussion of assigned material describing five aspects of the planning process The fifth chapter presents discussion strategies that help students master the content examine more than one side of the issue and evaluate alternative solutions to a text based problem while the sixth chapter analyzes one content area teacher s implementation of a preplanned discussion Finally the seventh chapter describes two procedures for informally evaluating classroom discussion used to promote reading comprehension References follow each chapter

Psychological Science Catherine A. Sanderson, Karen R. Huffman, 2023-04-11 Psychological Science The Curious Mind by award winning authors and professors Catherine A Sanderson and Karen Huffman introduces 21st century digital native students to the fascinating field of psychology This new program emphasizes the importance of developing scientific literacy and an understanding of research and research methods The program uses an inviting why focused framework that taps into students natural curiosity incorporating active learning and real life application to engage students Psychological Science The Curious Mind embraces the guidelines released by the American Psychological Association APA s Introductory Psychology Initiative IPI in 2021 It provides an excellent framework for instructors who want to implement those guidelines in their Introductory Psychology courses and it provides students with the content and motivation to achieve the course s ultimate outcome an enduring foundational understanding of psychological science El-Hi Textbooks & Serials in Print, 2005, 2005 The Contemporary Novel Irving Adelman, Rita Dworkin, 1997-10-09 In this new edition what was already an expansive work has been updated and further enlarged to include information not only on American and British novelists but also on writers in English from around the world The Oxford Encyclopedia of American Literature Jay Parini, 2004 This set treats the whole of American literature from the European discovery of America to the present with entries in alphabetical order Each of the 350 substantive essays is a major interpretive contribution Well known critics and scholars provide clear and vividly written essays that reflect the latest scholarship on a given topic as well as original thinking on the part of the critic The Encyclopedia is available in print and as an e reference text from Oxford s Digital Reference Shelf At the core of the encyclopedia lie 250 essays on poets playwrights essayists and novelists The most prominent figures such as Whitman Melville Faulkner Frost Morrison and so forth are treated at considerable length 10 000 words by top flight critics Less well known figures are discussed in essays ranging from 2 000 to 5 000 words Each essay examines the life of the author in the context of his or her times looking in detail at key works and describing the arc of the writer s career These essays include an assessment of the writer's current reputation with a bibliography of major works by the writer as well as a list of major critical and biographical works about the writer under discussion. A second key element of the project is the critical assessments of major American masterworks such as Moby Dick, Song of Myself, Walden, The Great Gatsby, The Waste Land, Their Eyes Were Watching God, Death of a Salesman, or Beloved. Each of these essays offers a close reading of the given work, placing that work in its historical context and offering a range of possibilities with regard to critical approach. These fifty essays, ranging from 2,000 to 5,000 words, are simply and clearly enough written that an intelligent high school student should easily understand them, but sophisticated enough that a college student or general reader in a public library will find the essays both informative and stimulating. The final major element of this encyclopedia consists of fifty odd essays on literary movements, periods, or themes, pulling together a broad range of information and making interesting connections. These essays treat many of the same authors already discussed, but in a different context; they also gather into the fold authors who do not have an entire essay on their work, so that Zane Grey, for example, is discussed in an essay on Western literature but does not have an essay to himself. In this way, the project is truly encyclopedic in the conventional sense. These essays aim for comprehensiveness without losing anything of the narrative force that makes them good reading in their own right. In a very real fashion, the literature of the American people reflects their deepest desires, aspirations, fears, and fantasies. The Oxford Encyclopedia of American Literature gathers a wide range of information that illumines the field itself and clarifies many of its particulars.
