Migration and Diversity in Asian Contexts Lai Ah Eng, 2003-08-01 This volume makes an important and unique contribution to scholarly understandings of migration and diversity through its focus on Asian contexts. Current scholarship and literature on processes of migration and the consequences of diversity is heavily concentrated on Western contexts and their concerns with multiculturalism, integration, rights and responsibilities, social cohesion, social inclusion and cosmopolitanism. In contrast, there has been relatively little attention given to migration and growing diversity in Asian contexts which are constituted by highly distinct and varied histories, cultures, geographies and political economies. This book fills this significant gap in the literature on migration studies with a concentrated focus on communities, cities and countries in the Asian region that are experiencing increased levels of population mobility and subsequent diversity. Not only does it offer analyses of the policies and processes of migration, it also addresses the outcomes and implications of migration and diversity; these include a focus on multiculturalism and citizenship in the Asian region, the emerging complex forms of governance in response to increased diversity, discussions of different settlement experiences and the practices of everyday life and encounters in increasingly diverse locales.

Global Asian City Francis L. Collins, 2018-05-03 Global Asian City provides a unique theoretical framework for studying the growth of cities and migration focused on the notion of desire as a major driver of international migration to Asian cities. Draws on more than 120 interviews of emigrants to Seoul including migrant workers from Indonesia, Philippines, Thailand and Vietnam, English teachers from Australia, Canada, New Zealand, South Africa, UK and USA and international students at two elite Korean universities. Features a comparative account of different migrant populations and the ways in which national migration systems and urban processes create differences between these groups. Focuses on the causes of international migrant to Seoul South Korea and reveals how migration has transformed the city and nation especially in the last two decades Migration and Marriage in Asian Contexts Zheng Mu,Wei-Jun Jean Yeung,2021-11-29 This book analyses how Asian migrants adapt and assimilate into their host societies and how this assimilation differs across their sociodemographic backgrounds ethnic profiles and political contexts The diversities in Asian migrants assimilation trajectories challenge the assumption that given time migrants will eventually integrate holistically into their host societies This book captures the diverse patterns and trajectories of assimilation by going beyond marriage migration to look at how family formation processes are shaped by migration driven by reasons other than marriage Using quantitative qualitative and mixed method analyses not only does this book uncover the nuances of the link between marriage and migration but it also widens methodological repertoires in research on marriage and migration It also captures various social outcomes that may have been influenced by migration including migrants economic well being cultural assimilation subjective well being and gender inequality vis vis marriages This book further embeds the studies in the Asian contexts by drawing on individual countries unique policies relevant to cross cultural marriages the persistent impacts of extended families the patriarchal traditions and systems of religion and caste The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies

Levels and Trends of International Migration to Selected Countries in Asia United Nations. Department of Economic and Social Affairs. Nazroo,2002 This report presents the findings of the qualitative study commissioned by the Department of Health in order to consider the prevalence of mental illness among different ethnic groups in Britain This involved follow up in depth interviews with a sub sample of the people included in a quantitative survey undertaken as part of the project A report of the EMPIRIC quantitative survey is available separately Ethnic Minority Psychiatric Illness Rates in the Community ISBN 0113225822 The study focuses on five of the main ethnic minority groups in England Bangladeshi Black Caribbean Indian Irish and Pakistani communities together with a general population white group to provide a point of comparison It considers the context of respondents lives and how this shapes their experiences of mental distress It also explores how far quantitative western assessments of mental illness adequately capture the experience of mental distress across different ethnic groups      New Zealand International Review ,1997      Context Determinants of Interstate Migration of U.S. Immigrants Mary M. Kritz,1996      Contacts Between Cultures: Eastern Asia ,1992 The papers included in these volumes with their wide geographical and disciplinary range and long time span reflect the comprehensive nature of the Congress      New Chinese Migrants in New Zealand Bingyu Wang,2018-08-06 There are growing waves of desirable migrants from Asia moving to New Zealand a place experiencing increasing ethnic diversity particularly in its largest metropolitan region Auckland In purely demographic terms much of this diversity has been generated by policy shifts since the 1980s and the adoption of a comparatively liberal immigration policy based on personal merit without discrimination on the grounds of race national or ethnic origin Due to these changes migrants from China and Asia more broadly have become increasingly significant in migration flows into New Zealand This in turn makes New Zealand a valuable case study for understanding how Chinese migrants integrate into and affect their host nation Wang attempts to close a gap in contemporary research by relating cosmopolitanism to migration particularly in the Asian context With a cosmopolitan gaze towards migration studies she makes four key contributions to the ongoing scholarly discussion Firstly this is the first comprehensive study to use cosmopolitanism as a framework to study the lives of contemporary Chinese migrants with implications for migration studies as a whole It sheds light on the relationship between cosmopolitanism and migrant mobility taking a new approach to examine the living paradigms of international migrants Secondly this book identifies the emergence and development of cosmopolitanism outside the domain of Western middle class groups The concept of rooted cosmopolitanism is utilised to break down the Eurocentric notion of cosmopolitanism and to show the role played by Chinese rootedness during the process of becoming cosmopolitan and encountering diversity Thirdly the book advances and enriches the knowledge of studies in everyday cosmopolitanism by focusing on cosmopolitanism from below locating quotidian and down to earth cosmopolitan engagements that are grounded in everyday migrant lives Fourthly it looks at the emotional dimension of migrants negotiating difference and engaging in cosmopolitanism particularly the ways in which emotions undermine and promote the development of cosmopolitan sociability     "Australian Identity", Racism and Recent Responses to Asian Immigration to Australia Gavin W. Jones,1997
