Growing Local Robert P. King,Michael Stephen Hand,Miguel I. Gómez,2014 In an increasingly commercialized world the demand for better quality healthier food has given rise to one of the fastest growing segments of the U S food system locally grown food Many believe that relocation of the food system will provide a range of public benefits including lower carbon emissions increased local economic activity and closer connections between consumers farmers and communities The structure of local food supply chains however may not always be capable of generating these perceived benefits Growing Local reports the findings from a coordinated series of case studies designed to develop a deeper more nuanced understanding of how local food products reach consumers and how local food supply chains compare with mainstream supermarket supply chains To better understand how local food reaches the point of sale Growing Local uses case study methods to rigorously compare local and mainstream supply chains for five products in five metropolitan areas along multiple social economic and environmental dimensions highlighting areas of growth and potential barriers Growing Local provides a foundation for a better understanding of the characteristics of local food production and emphasizes the realities of operating local food supply chains

Z.E.R.O. Joseph Jaffe,Maarten Albarda,2013-10-07 The world has changed Everyone keeps reminding marketers and advertisers about the never ending and accelerating forces of technology disruption consumer changes and innovation evolution in the marketing world today Sounds exciting except for the fact that we re doing absolutely nothing about it Zero Simply put under current operating conditions the advertising industry will not be able to sustain itself and without taking action is likely to result in severe to catastrophic outcomes from financial underperformance to job loss to even a collapse of the current media ecosystem The solution The Marketing Model can be fixed by slashing your ad budget and investing in the Z E R O framework Zealots Entrepreneurship Retention Owned Assets

Lectures Delivered to the Employees of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, Henry Newell Martin, Henry Sewell, 1882 Covid U: Business Lessons From A Pandemic Jay Prag, Amanda Ishak Prag, 2022-12-19 From every angle the world has faced unprecedented change over the past two years. Academics will be dissecting the nuance of the COVID-19 Crisis for decades to come. Yet for all the promises of research and data, we must understand that the full impact of the pandemic, from child development and college football seasons to healthcare breakthroughs and the future of the film industry, will not be known for at least a generation. This book focuses on the business lessons we have learned since the pandemic began in early 2020. It takes an interdisciplinary approach to examining the effects of COVID-19 on multiple aspects of business, such as marketing and finance. At the same time, it stresses the need to consider the human element of business above all else, showing that people are the most important piece of what has become a devastating and unpredictable puzzle. Macworld, 2005 The Aisles Have Eyes Joseph Turow, 2017-01-17 The author of Media Today offers a trenchant, timely, and troubling account of retailers' data mining in store tracking and predictive analytics. The Philadelphia Inquirer. By one expert's prediction, within twenty years half of Americans will have body implants that tell retailers how they feel about specific products as they browse their local stores. The notion may be outlandish, but it reflects executives' drive to understand shoppers in the aisles with the same obsessive detail that they track us online. In fact, a hidden surveillance revolution is already taking place inside brick-and-mortar stores where Americans still do most of their buying. Drawing on his interviews with retail executives, analysis of trade publications, and experiences at insider industry meetings, advertising and digital studies expert Joseph Turow pulls back the curtain on these trends, showing how a new hyper-competitive generation of merchants, including Macy's, Target, and Walmart, is already using data mining in store tracking and predictive analytics to change the way we buy, undermine our privacy, and define our reputations. Eye-opening and timely, Turow's book is essential reading to understand the future of shopping. Turow shows shopping today to be an exercise in unwitting self-revelation, and not only online. The Wall Street Journal. Thoroughly researched and clearly presented with detailed evidence and fascinating peeks inside the retail industry, much of this information is startling and even chilling, particularly when Turow shows how retail data tracking can enable discrimination and societal stratification. Publishers Weekly. Revealing, valuable reading for shoppers and retailers alike. Kirkus Reviews The Perfect Storm Louis Willie Thomas JR, 2014-08-10 The perfect blend of poetry, including humor, inspirational, life, love, political, etc. It is just as essential as your morning cup of coffee, the must-read poetry book of 2014. Gardeners' Chronicle, 1891 National
