Civil Integrated Management (CIM) for Departments of Transportation William J. O'Brien, 2016 TRB's National Cooperative Highway Research Program NCHRP Report 831 Civil Integrated Management CIM for Departments of Transportation Volume 1 Guidebook presents guidance for collecting organizing and managing information in digital formats about a highway or other transportation construction project Volume 2 Research Report provides background material on collecting organizing and managing information in digital formats about a highway or other transportation construction project The term civil integrated management CIM has been adopted in recent years to encompass an assortment of practices and tools entailing collection organization and management of information in digital formats about highway or other transportation construction projects Transportation agencies may realize significant benefits from increased adoption of these practices which may be useful when managing an asset's initial planning phase through its in service maintenance

Design Tools for Evidence-Based Healthcare Design Michael Phiri, 2014-12-05 The growing movement towards evidence based healthcare design has largely emphasised a change of culture and attitudes It has advocated for new ways of working but until now it has not focused on equipping healthcare clients and their designers with the practical means to exploit the potential benefits from evidence based architectural design Development of indicators and tools that aid designers and users of the built environments in thinking about quality enhances the design process to achieve better outcomes Importantly design tools can support managers and designers through end user involvement and an increased understanding of what patients and staff expect from their healthcare facilities They can facilitate the creation of patient centred environments which improve user satisfaction Design Tools for Evidence Based Healthcare Design Discusses the tools that are being used to achieve design quality and excellence within the context of NHS procurement systems such as PFI Procure21 and others Collates information that increases our understanding of these tools in order to be able to make the best use of them Clarifies where during the various stages of a building's life from inception design construction occupation and re use these tools should be used in order to derive the benefits possible from evidence based design Provides in one place an authoritative reference publication that will act as a memory a user guide and manual for these design tools Illustrated with case studies from throughout the UK and written by a well known expert in the field this book will provide essential reading for anyone involved in healthcare design Delivering Value with BIM Adriana Sanchez,Keith Hampson,Simon Vaux,2016-03-31 Building Information Modelling BIM is a global phenomenon which is gaining significant momentum across the world Currently there is little information on how to realise and monitor benefits from implementing BIM across the life cycle of a built environment asset This book provides a practical and strategic framework to realise value from implementing BIM by adapting Benefit Realisation Management theory It presents an approach for practitioners aiming to implement BIM across the life cycle of built environment assets including both buildings and infrastructure Additionally the book features wide ranging information about BIM the challenges of monitoring progress towards benefit goals and the greater context of implementation a set of dictionaries that illustrate how benefits can be achieved what the benefit flows are and the enabling tools and processes that contribute to achieving and maximising them a suite of measures that can serve to monitor progress with examples of how they have been used to measure benefits from BIM real world examples from across the world and life cycle phases that show how these benefits can be achieved and information on international maturity and competency measures to complement the value realisation framework Including a blend of academic and industry input this book has been developed in close collaborative consultation with industry government and international research organisations and could be used for industry courses on BIM benefits and implementation for asset management or by universities that teach BIM related courses BIM Design Richard

Garber,2014-08-11 Building information modelling BIM is revolutionising building design and construction For architects BIM has the potential to optimise their creativity while reducing risk in the design and construction process thus giving them a more significant role in the building process This book demonstrates how innovative firms are using BIM technologies to move design away from the utilitarian problems of construction engaging them in a stunning new future in the built environment Whereas recent books about BIM have tended to favour case study analyses or instruction on the use of specific software BIM Design highlights how day to day design operations are shaped by the increasingly generative and collaborative aspects of these new tools BIM strategies are described as operations that can enhance design rather than simply make it more efficient Thus this book focuses on the specific creative uses of information modelling at the operational level including the creative development of parametric geometries and generative design the evaluation of environmental performance and the simulation and scheduling of construction fabrication operations This book also engages BIM's pragmatic efficiencies such as the conflict checking of building systems and the creation of bills of quantities for costing and in so doing it demonstrates how BIM can make such activities collaborative Throughout projects are used to illustrate the creative application of BIM at a variety of scales These buildings showcase work by firms executing projects all over the world SHoP Architects and Construction New York Morphosis Los Angeles Populous London GRO Architects New York
