Biologically Active Natural Products Horace G. Cutler, Stephen J. Cutler, 1999-06-23 Natural products that have both plant growth regulatory properties and pharmaceutical properties are examined in this book This is the first and most up to date text linking agrochemistry and pharmaceutical chemistry in an easy to read presentation for practitioners in both fields Due to the intense and widespread attention being given to Mariculture Research Under the Postgraduate Programme in Mariculture, Allelopathy in Ecological Agriculture and Forestry S.S. Narwal, R.E. Hoagland, R.H. Dilday, M. J. Reigosa Roger, 2012-12-06 The rapidly growing human population has increased the dependence on fossil fuel based agrochemicals such as fertilizers and pesticides to produce the required agricultural and forestry products This has exerted a great pressure on the non renewable fossil fuel resources which cannot last indefinitely Besides indiscriminate use of pesticides for pests weeds insects nematodes pathogens control has resulted in serious ecological and environmental problems viz A Increasing incidence of resistance in pest organisms to important pesticides B Shift in pests population particularly in weeds and insects In weeds species that are more closely related to the crops they infest have developed In insects scenario is most grim the predators have been killed and minor insect pests have become major pests and require very heavy doses of highly toxic insecticides for their control C Greater environmental pollution and health hazards a particularly from contamination of surface and underground drinking water resources and b from their inhalation during handling and application D Toxic residues of pesticides pollute the environment and may prove hazardous to even our future generations E Some agricultural commodities may contain minute quantities of pesticides residues with long term adverse effects on human and livestock health Therefore serious ecological questions about the reliance on pesticides for pests control has been raised The use of fertilizers besides causing environmental problems has also impoverished the soil health and decreased the beneficial soil fauna For example in some major crop rotations viz Climate Change 2013: The Physical Science Basis Intergovernmental panel on climate change. Determining the Source of Nitrate in Ground Water by Nitrogen Isotope Studies Charles W. Kreitler, 1975 Nitrogen isotope ratios of ammonium and nitrate ions from soil and water samples can be analyzed reproducibly with an experimental error of approximately 10 ‰ Two isotopic ranges of soil nitrate are found in the soils of southern Runnels County Texas Nitrate from the decomposition of animal waste nitrogen has a δN^{15} of 100 ‰ to 220 ‰ The isotopic ratio is controlled by the volatilization of isotopically light ammonia gas during the decomposition of urea in urine Nitrate derived from the mineralization of organic nitrogen in cultivated soils has a δN^{15} of 20 ‰ to 80 ‰ In southern Runnels County the major source of nitrate in groundwater is natural soil nitrate The isotopic composition of groundwater nitrate beneath cultivated 15 fields corresponds with δN^{15} of natural soil nitrate Groundwaters beneath farmhouse barnyard complexes have a higher average delta N15 indicating the addition of animal waste nitrate Eleven samples of groundwater from Macon County Missouri have delta N15 of 100 00 to 190 00 indicating that the waters are contaminated with nitrate from animal wastes Nitrates in groundwaters from the Upper Glacial aquifer in Queens County New York appear to be from an animal waste source whereas nitrates in groundwaters from the Magothy aquifer in Nassau County New York appear to be from either natural soil nitrogen or artificial fertilizer Journal of Molecular and Applied Genetics ,1983 Matagorda Bay, Texas, Its Hydrography, Ecology, and Fishery Resources George H.
