Outside In The Architecture Of Smith And Williams:

Outside In Jocelyn Gibbs, Debi Howell-Ardila, Anthony Denzer, Lilian Pfaff, Alan Hess, 2015-03-01 From 1946 to 1973 Whitney Rowland Smith and his partner Wayne Williams designed more than 800 projects from residential commercial and public buildings to housing tracts multi use complexes and parks and master plans for cities Working in the wake of the first generation of avant garde architects in Southern California and riding the postwar building boom their firm Smith and Williams developed a pragmatic modernism that through remarkable planning and design integrated landscapes with buildings and decisively shaped the modern vocabulary of architecture in Los Angeles Through a breathtaking array of images Outside In unveils the core of Smith and Williams's architectural practice Their most influential designs the authors show are compositions of balanced opposites shelter and openness private and public restraint and exuberance light and shadow Smith and Williams created spaciousness in their buildings by layering spaces and manipulating the relationship between structure and landscape This spaciousness expressed modern ideas about the relationship of architecture to environment of building to site and ultimately of outside to in

Barton Myers Jocelyn Gibbs, Kris Miller-Fisher, Charles Warner Oakley, Luis Hoyos, Howard Shubert, Bruce Robertson, Natalie Shivers, 2019-07-05 Drawing on the vast archival resources of its Architecture and Design Collection the UCSB Art Design Architecture Museum University of California Santa Barbara presents an assessment of 50 years of design by Barton Myers b 1934 beginning with his work in the Toronto firm A J Diamond and Barton Myers 1967 1975 to his own offices in Toronto and Los Angeles Barton Myers Associates 1975 present Myers's strongest architectural ideas come out of the planning strategies of his early neighborhood activism in 1970s Toronto his grounding in history and his training in the classical traditions of site and space planning Barton Myers is an avowed urbanist a self described radical in his early advocacy of old fashioned qualities like density mixed use of new and repurposed materials and contextual planning in the late 1960s when that fundamentally conservative position was considered counter culture Myers urban manifesto was codified in Vacant Lottery the title of the Design Quarterly issue co edited by Myers and Canadian architect and educator George Baird in 1978 and which led to a renewal of interest in urban planning and offered a strategy for increasing population densities within cities while preserving the existing residential fabric The term lived on long past the journal's circulation cycle as both an urban infill strategy and an acknowledgment of the ceding of city planning responsibility to the lottery of private developers Myers's design practice has thus always been a social justice practice as well Myers is also a brilliant designer of residential houses that take advantage of local landscape contexts and adaptive reuse of building materials including steel and glass Five essays on urban planning civic structures reuse of historic buildings single and multi family housing and theaters reinforce Myers's commitment to urbanism and reveal his flexibility with modes of modernism Natalie Shivers introduces the early planning work in Toronto and traces the vacant lottery idea of neighborhood infill to the influential Grand Avenue project in Los Angeles Howard Shubert examines the architectural and planning strategies and political complexities of several civic structures in Canada and the United States Luis Hoyos explores Myers's additions and adaptations to historic buildings in diverse urban contexts Lauren Bricker focuses on the use of steel and other industrial materials in Myers's houses and analyses the neighborhood based designs of his multi family housing Charles Oakley describes the technical innovations site planning and historical underpinnings of Myers's theaters and performance complexes

Time and Transformation in Architecture Tuuli Lähdesmäki, 2018-06-26 Time and Transformation in Architecture edited by Tuuli Lähdesmäki approaches architecture and the built environment from an interdisciplinary point of view by emphasizing in its theoretical discussions and empirical analysis the dimensions of time temporality and transformation and their relation to human experiences behavior and practices The volume consists of seven chapters that explore the following questions How do architectural ideas ideals and meanings emerge develop and transform How is architecture manifested in relation to time time space and the social dimensions it entails and produces The volume provides both multifaceted theoretical discussions on time and temporality in architecture and empirical case studies around the globe in which these theories and conceptualizations are tested and explored Contributors are Eiman Ahmed Elwidaa Andr van Graan June Jordaan Joongsub Kim Tuuli Lähdesmäki Assumpta Nnaggenda Musana Sanja Rode and Smaranda Spănu

Carefree California: Cliff May and the Romance of the Ranch House Nicholas Olsberg, Jocelyn Gibbs, 2012-09-04 This landmark volume is an authoritative richly illustrated examination of the origins evolution and influence of the California ranch house Carefree California looks at a legendary figure in Southern California design Cliff May and the ubiquitous domestic icon his name evokes the ranch house We also see how other architects from George Washington Smith to Rudolph Schindler pursued different paths toward the same kind of relaxed domesticity exemplified by the ranch house By the late 50s much of the world was fascinated with California living and with the ranch house in particular which derived from architects' evocation and reworking of distinctive regional traditions allied with the pervasive romance and myths of the California frontier and from the cultivation of a domestic architecture that could serve distinctively Californian ways of carefree living By uncovering patterns for living that suited the automobile age among the almost archaic forms and rhythms of mission and pioneer dwellings an extraordinary range of modernism emerged that was at once grounded in history and soaring into the space age

Cranbrook Architecture Gretchen Wilkins, 2023-05-08 Guest edited by Gretchen Wilkins The renowned Cranbrook Academy of Art near Detroit Michigan has been described as the epicentre of American Modernism When it opened in 1932 it combined a stunning Eliel Saarinen designed campus with a radically open educational philosophy to attract and produce some of the most influential artists designers and architects in US history including Charles and Ray Eames Fumihiko Maki Florence Knoll and Edmund Bacon Often compared to other experimental schools such as the Bauhaus Black Mountain College and Taliesin Cranbrook s sustained purpose has been advancing a wide interdisciplinary latitude and self directed design research to expand and diversify its approaches to architectural practice There is a deep and persistent idea that open and experimental acts of making should define pedagogy and by extension that education should shape practice not the other way around Cranbrook s rigorous defiance of dogma and loose grip on the disciplines enables an educational model that combines the practices of art design making and urbanism In this issue alumni faculty and scholars reflect on Cranbrook s model in light of contemporary and challenging questions in architectural education practice and the profession Contributors Kevin Adkisson Emily Baker Peggy Deamer Pia Ednie Brown Ronit Eisenbach Dan Hoffman Yu Chih Hsiao Peter Lynch Bill Massie Hani Rashid Jesse Reiser Lois Weinthal and Tod Williams Featured architects Asymptote Architecture Building Culture PLA Reiser Umemoto RUR Studio Libeskind and Tod Williams Billie Tsien

Ante Bellum Houses of the Bluegrass Clay Lancaster, 2014-07-15 The ante bellum homes of Lexington and Fayette County Kentucky are both more numerous and more distinctive in design than those of many communities of similar age Founded in 1775 Lexington by the turn of the century had become the chief cultural center north of New Orleans and west of the Alleghenies During the eight decades between the Revolution and the Civil War Fayette County was the focus of converging streams of immigration and a phenomenal amount of building activity took place in Lexington and the surrounding area Although local builders followed the trends of national architecture they were not primarily concerned with correctness and developed a provincial style which was distinguished by originality and a high level of craftsmanship In Ante Bellum Houses of the Bluegrass Clay Lancaster seeks to define the indigenous character of Fayette County building which he concludes is of unusually distinguished quality A second aim is the presentation of authentic data as a guide for intelligent restoration of existing old buildings many of which have been defaced by unnecessary changes and inappropriate additions He traces the development of house building in this restricted area from the first crude log cabins through frame stone and early brick residences to the substantial homes built by wealthy landowners and merchants in the mid nineteenth century The text is supplemented by 200 line drawings which present the essential features of each building free from the later alterations and decay which would be recorded by the camera These illustrations have been compiled on the basis of intensive research from old photographs maps drawings and other records An album of halftone illustrations many of which are reproductions of old photographs of buildings which have been altered or demolished supplements these illustrations

Avery Index to Architectural Periodicals Avery Library, 1973 1977 to present Citations to articles from more than 1 000 periodicals in all Western languages including all major architectural journals published in the U S and Great Britain as well as most South American European and Japanese architecture related periodicals
