No Other City Alvin Pang, Aaron Soon Yong Lee, 2000      Alvin Pang's Poems for No Other City : the Ethos Anthology of Urban Poetry Alvin Pang, 1997      Re-Inventing the Postcolonial (in the) Metropolis Cecile Sandten, Annika Bauer, 2016-09-27

The notion of the postcolonial metropolis has gained prominence in the last two decades both within and beyond postcolonial studies. Disciplines such as sociology and urban studies however have tended to focus on the economic inequalities, class disparities and other structural and formative aspects of the postcolonial metropolises that are specific to Western conceptions of the city at large. It is only recently that the depiction of postcolonial metropolises has been addressed in the writings of Suketu Mehta, Chris Abani, Amit Chaudhuri, Salman Rushdie, Aravind Adiga, Helon Habila, Sefi Atta and Zakes Mda among others. Most of these works probe the urban specifics and physical and cultural topographies of postcolonial cities while highlighting their agential capacity to defy appropriate and abrogate the superimposition of theories of Western modernity and urbanism. These ASNEL Papers are all concerned with the idea of the postcolonial in the metropolis from various disciplinary viewpoints as drawn from a great range of cityscapes spread out over five continents. The essays explore on the one hand ideas of spatial subdivision and inequality, political repression, social discrimination, economic exploitation and cultural alienation and on the other the possibility of transforming, reinventing and reconfiguring the postcolonial condition in and through literary texts and visual narratives. In this context, the volume covers a broad spectrum of theoretical and thematic approaches to postcolonial and metropolitan topographies and their depictions in writings from Australia and New Zealand, South Africa, South Asia and greater Asia as well as the UK, addressing issues such as modernity and market economies but also caste, class and social and linguistic aspects. At the same time, they reflect on the postcolonial metropolis and postcolonialism in the metropolis by concentrating on an urban imaginary which turns on notions of spatial subdivision and inequality, political repression, social discrimination, economic exploitation and cultural alienation as the continuing postcolonial condition.

The essays in this collection celebrate the signal achievement of Dieter Riemenschneider in helping found and consolidate the study of postcolonial anglophone literatures in Germany and Europe. As well as poems, a short story, drawings of the Indian scene, the first and abiding focus of this scholar's work and letters of reminiscence, one quite grave, there are revealing contributions of a literary-historical nature on the establishment of anglophone, especially African literatures as an academic discipline within Germany, the UK and Northern Europe, generally, as well as a group of searching reflections on such topics of postcolonial import as globalization and the applicability of models to the literature of the indigene in Canada and Australia. The largest section is devoted to individual topics, each treatment implicitly keyed to approaches to the teaching of New Literatures texts. Writers covered include Anita Desai, landscape and memory, Salman Rushdie, painting in The Moor's Last Sign, Charlotte Brontë, imperial discourse in Jane Eyre, Derek Walcott, Omeros and cultural cohabitation and Witi Ihimaera, his rewriting of Katherine Mansfield. Topics dealt with include music and radio in West Africa the African literary hit parade the New Zealand prose poem Canadian and Australian war fiction the Middle Passage in the American and Caribbean novel Paul Theroux's uneasy relations with V S Naipaul and the colonial discourse of illness and recuperation The volume closes with Dieter Riemenschneider's very first and most recent critical essays the one a classic on Mulk Raj Anand the other a challenging and doubtless controversial thesis on postcolonial minority writing A select bibliography of Riemenschneider's work books edited publications journal articles and book contributions reviews and broadcasts rounds off this substantial collection
