No Sword To Bury Franklin Odo, 2008-11-20 When bombs rained down on Pearl Harbor in 1941 Japanese American college students were among the many young men enrolled in ROTC and immediately called upon to defend the Hawaiian islands against invasion In a few weeks however the military government questioned their loyalty and disarmed them In No Sword to Bury Franklin Odo places the largely untold story of the wartime experience of these young men in the context of the community created by their immigrant families and its relationship to the larger white dominated society At the heart of the book are vivid oral histories that recall their service on the home front in the Varsity Victory Volunteers a non military group dedicated to public works as well as in the segregated 442nd Regimental Combat Team Illuminating a critical moment in ethnic identity formation among this first generation of Americans of Japanese descent the nisei Odo shows how the war time service and the post war success of these men contributed to the simplistic view of Japanese Americans as a model
