Ramjan, Sarawut, Sunkpho, Jirapon, 2023-05-09

The demand for skilled data scientists is rapidly increasing as more organizations recognize the value of data driven decision making. Data science, data management and data mining are all critical components for various types of organizations including large and small corporations, academic institutions and government entities. For companies, these components serve to extract insights and value from their data, empowering them to make evidence driven decisions and gain a competitive advantage by discovering patterns and trends and avoiding costly mistakes. Academic institutions utilize these tools to analyze large datasets and gain insights into various scientific fields of study including genetic data, climate data, financial data and in the social sciences they are used to analyze survey data, behavioral data and public opinion data. Governments use data science to analyze data that can inform policy decisions such as identifying areas with high crime rates, determining which regions need infrastructure development and predicting disease outbreaks. However, individuals who are not data science experts but are experts within their own fields may need to apply their experience to the data they must manage but still struggle to expand their knowledge of how to use data mining tools such as RapidMiner software.
