Informing Science Volume One: Concepts and Systems T. Grandon Gill, 2016 The two volume Informing Science series is the first attempt to survey and synthesize research in the informing science transdiscipline Part textbook part collection of readings the two volumes present both important research findings relating to the field and highlight fertile directions for future research Volume One Concepts and Systems focuses on the key building blocks of informing science It begins with an overview of the transdiscipline tracing its evolution from Cohen's original proposal to its present state Next it considers a series of concepts that frequently elude attempts at rigorous definition Among these theory research information knowledge and complexity With working definitions established it goes on to explore basic systems theory introducing the concept of an informing system The key elements of such systems the channel the sender informer and the receiver client are then examined individually The volume concludes with two overview chapters The first of these looks at the analysis of a basic informing system in which a single informer interacts directly with a clearly specified client or set of clients The last chapter extends these ideas to the more complex topologies e.g. multiple channels multiple informers multiple clients layers of informing that are more typical in real world informing contexts

Evidence-based Pediatrics and Child Health Virginia Moyer, Elizabeth Elliott, 2008-04-15 Evidence Based Pediatrics and Child Health is a ground breaking new text on pediatrics and child care management using evidence based approach It covers all the major childhood conditions and contains the features of both a handbook and a reference text Each chapter combines both advice on management and how best to practice evidence based medicine with reviews of all the available evidence in a specific area The goal of the book is to help pediatricians and others who care for children to provide the best possible care by combining the best most current evidence with special circumstances of each individual patient

From the former Head of Brand Strategy at Reddit comes a proven and thought provoking approach to the digital economy and how brands can create authentic engagement that is rooted in the fundamental motivations behind human psychology. Leading marketing practitioner and thought leader Joe Federer draws on evolutionary biology anthropology neuroanatomy and psychology as well as more than a decade of hands on experience to explain why people act so differently in various online spaces and what they are seeking from participating in each one. With a framework based on Freud's Id Ego and Superego model of the human psyche he demonstrates how the internet is a digital reflection of the collective human psyche and how different social networks correspond to different mindsets. Platforms like Reddit to the unfiltered Id Facebook and Twitter to the managed Ego and Instagram to the ideal Superego. In the same way you behave differently when you're home alone out with friends communicating with family or interacting with coworkers people act and express themselves differently in these various online spaces. Context matters. Understanding this will enable you to develop and execute effective engagement strategies to reach your target audiences on each social network. Learn how to create content that drives sharing and word of mouth how brands can fit natively into different types of social channels how to balance branded social presences across different networks why authenticity will only grow in importance to consumers. Fascinating and deeply compelling. The Hidden Psychology of Social Networks will equip you to make vastly more efficient use of your media buys establish more thoughtful strategies develop better creative and in the end deliver more effective marketing that provides value.
