Race and Time Janet Gray, 2004-04 Race and Time urges our attention to women's poetry in considering the cultural history of race Building on close readings of well known and less familiar poets including Elizabeth Margaret Chandler Sarah Louisa Forten Hannah Flagg Gould Frances Ellen Watkins Harper Sarah Piatt Mary Eliza Tucker Lambert Sarah Josepha Hale Eliza Follen and Mary Mapes Dodge Gray traces tensions in women's literary culture from the era of abolitionism to the rise of the Plantation tradition She devotes a chapter to children's verse arguing that racial stereotypes work as nonsense that masks conflicts in the construction of white childhood A compilation of the poems cited most of which are difficult to find elsewhere is included as an appendix Gray clarifies the cultural roles women's poetry played in the nineteenth century United States and also reveals that these poems offer a fascinating dynamic and diverse field for students of social and cultural history Gray's readings provide a rich sense of the contexts in which this poetry is embedded and examine its aesthetic and political vitality in meticulous detail linking careful explication of the texts with analysis of the history of poetry canons literacy and literary authority Race and Time distinguishes itself from other critical studies not only through its searching in depth readings but also through its sustained attention to less known poets and its departure from a Dickinson centered model Most significantly it offers a focus on race demonstrating how changes in both the U S racial structure and women's place in public culture set the terms for change in how women poets envisioned the relationship between poetry and social power Gray's work makes contributions to several fields of study poetry U S literary history and American studies women s studies African American studies and whiteness studies children s literature and cultural studies While placing the works of figures who have been treated elsewhere e g Dickinson and Harper into revealing new relationships Race and Time does much to open interdisciplinary discussion of unfamiliar works The Social Lives of Poems in Nineteenth-Century America Michael C. Cohen,2015-05-28 Poetry occupied a complex position in the social life of nineteenth century America While some readers found in poems a resource for aesthetic pleasure and the enjoyment of linguistic complexity many others turned to poems for spiritual and psychic wellbeing adapted popular musical settings of poems to spread scandal and satire or used poems as a medium for asserting personal and family memories as well as local and national affiliations Poetry was not only read but memorized and quoted rewritten and parodied collected anthologized edited and exchanged Michael C Cohen here explores the multiplicity of imaginative relationships forged between poems and those who made use of them from the post Revolutionary era to the turn of the twentieth century Organized along a careful genealogy of ballads in the Atlantic world The Social Lives of Poems in Nineteenth Century America demonstrates how the circulation of texts in songs broadsides letters and newsprint as well as in books anthologies and critical essays enabled poetry to perform its many different tasks Considering the media and modes of reading through which people encountered and made sense of poems Cohen traces the lines of critical interpretations and tracks the emergence and disappearance of poetic genres in American literary culture Examining well known works by John Greenleaf Whittier and Walt Whitman as well as popular ballads minstrel songs and spirituals Cohen shows how discourses on poetry served as sites for debates over history literary culture citizenship and racial identity Penguin Classics Penguin (Firm),2005 12th Conference on British and American Studies Marinela Burada,Raluca Sinu,Oana Tatu,2016-01-14 This book represents a selection of papers presented by academics and researchers at the 12th Conference on British and American Studies They are grouped in two main theme clusters corresponding to the two chapters of the book Languages in Contact and Languages in Use and Multidisciplinarity and Multiculturalism in Literary Studies In the first section language is described in turn as subject to influence by other language systems as an object of learning and acquisition and as an instrument enabling users to bridge between cultures disciplinary domains and people The second part of the volume is mainly concerned with such notions as hybridity tolerance identity subversion and deconstruction as reflected in classical and contemporary Anglo American literary texts Nineteenth-century American Poetry A.
