highlighting the importance of prayer in the life and ministry of the pastor and helping them to teach prayer This book gives a comprehensive overview of the theological underpinnings for prayer as well as the strategies and literature used by Luther and his followers as they taught prayer to all people 90 at 90 Kenneth J. Dale,2015-10-16 Ken Dale has lived for 90 years as a modern man and therefore as one who deeply respects the thinking of scientists who limit the world they study to what is objective Unfortunately some moderns tell us we should all follow suit Yet science has no plausible account of the subjective experience of scientists or of any of us Dale refuses to ignore what he knows best his own experience and when one clearly affirms the subjective realm at any point all sorts of questions open up He is quite confident that in this realm he has met God and he encourages us to think with him about what that means There is no better way to examine ones own experience and come to ones own judgments than to engage the wisdom of another seeker like Dale He offers us his insights freely and forthrightly in brief meditations on questions that concern us all Plunge in John B Cobb Jr Professor Emeritus Claremont School of Theology and Claremont Graduate University Founding Co director of the Center for Process Studies
