Paris Spleen New Directions Paperbook:

Underground Music Cultures and Music-Making in Los Angeles Sébastien Darchen, John Willsteed, Damien Charrieras, 2025-02-27 This book focuses on the relationships between underground urban music cultures in Los Angeles and specific urban imaginaries related to music practices far away and sometimes in stark opposition to the commodified image of the city crafted by urban planners and associated urban stakeholders Rather than this commodified city and the imaginary city of the mind it examines the accidental tangential life of a mirage The city that appears in the distance is one that is formed by songs and music making The book shows how counter urban imaginaries emerge and are performed through diverse underground music making practices giving rise to alternative ways of seeing the city Paris Spleen, 1869 Charles Baudelaire, 1970 Baudelaire composed the series of prose poems known as Paris Spleen between 1855 and his death in 1867 He attached great importance to his work in this then unusual form asking Which one of us in his moments of ambition has not dreamed of the miracle of a poetic prose musical without rhythm and without rhyme supple enough and rugged enough to adapt itself to the lyrical impulses of the soul the undulations of reverie the jibes of conscience New Essays in Comparative Aesthetics Robert Wilkinson, 2009-03-26 Comparative aesthetics is the branch of philosophy which compares the aesthetic concepts and practices of different cultures The way in which the various cultures of the world conceive of the aesthetic dimension of life in general and art in particular is revelatory of profound attitudes and beliefs which themselves make up an important part of the culture in question This anthology consists of entirely new essays by some of the leading internationally recognised scholars in the field The subjects addressed include the influence of Upaniadic thought on the classic Indian tradition in aesthetics and the way in which that tradition continues to have relevance to issues discussed today how Buddhist thought in general and Zen in particular shape aesthetic attitudes in Japanese culture how Confucianism affected not only the morality but also the classical aesthetics of China how different ideas of the self and of human nature affect artistic training and practice in different cultures how feminism can draw inspiration from classic non European lines of thought in the area of aesthetics and how different attitudes to nature underpin a whole range of aesthetic beliefs and attitudes in western and eastern thought These ideas reveal both deep differences and deep similarities between east and west No one seeking to understand the cultures discussed in these essays can ignore their aesthetic dimension which often holds the key to understanding the deepest motives which have formed them Environmental Rhetoric and Ecologies of Place Peter Goggin, 2013-07-18 Understanding how rhetoric and environmental rhetoric in particular informs and is informed by local and global ecologies contributes to our conversations about sustainability and resilience the preservation and conservation of the earth and the future of human society This book explores some of the complex relationships collaborations compromises and contradictions between human endeavor and situated discourses identities and landscapes social justice and natural resources movement and geographies unpacking and grappling with the complexities of rhetoric of presence Making a significant contribution to exploring the complex discursive constructions of environmental rhetorics and place based rhetorics this collection considers discourses actions and adaptations concerning environmental regulations and development sustainability exploitation and conservation of energy resources Essays visit arguments on cultural values social justice environmental advocacy and identity as political constructions of rhetorical place and space Rural and urban case studies contribute to discussions of the ethics and identities of environment and the rhetorics of environmental cartography and glocalization Contributors represent a range of specialization across a variety of scholarly research in such fields as communication studies rhetorical theory social cultural geography technical professional communication cartography anthropology linguistics comparative literature ecocriticism literacy studies digital rhetoric media studies and discourse analysis Thus this book goes beyond the assumption that rhetorics are situated and challenges us to consider not only how and why they are situated but what we mean when we theorize notions of situated place based rhetorics

Baudelaire Martin Turnell,1972 Play Among Books Miro Roman,Alice _ch3n81,2021-12-06 How does coding change the way we think about architecture This question opens up an important research perspective In this book Miro Roman and his AI Alice_ch3n81 develop a playful scenario in which they propose coding as the new literacy of information They convey knowledge in the form of a project model that links the fields of architecture and information through two interwoven narrative strands in an infinite flow of real books Focusing on the intersection of information technology and architectural formulation the authors create an evolving intellectual reflection on digital architecture and computer science

The National Union Catalogs, 1963- ,1964 Giving the Devil His Due Jessica Hooten Wilson,2017-02-28 Flannery O Connor and Fyodor Dostoevsky shared a deep faith in Christ which compelled them to tell stories that force readers to choose between eternal life and demonic possession Their either or extremism has not become more popular in the last fifty to a hundred years since these stories were first published but it has become more relevant to a twenty first century culture in which the lukewarm middle ground seems the most comfortable place to dwell Giving the Devil His Due walks through all of O Connor s stories and looks closely at Dostoevsky s magnum opus The Brothers Karamazov to show that when the devil rules all hell breaks loose Instead of this kingdom of violence O Connor and Dostoevsky propose a kingdom of love one that is only possible when the Lord again is king

The Artist and Political Vision Benjamin R. Barber,Michael J. Gargas McGrath, Art and politics are often regarded as denizens of different realms but few artists have been comfortable with the notion of a purely aesthetic definition of art The artist has a public and thus political vision of the world interpreted by his art no less than the statesman and the legislator have a creative vision of the world they wish to make The sixteen original essays in this volume bear eloquent witness to this interpenetration of art and politics Each confronts the intersection of the aesthetic and the social each is concerned with the interface of poetic vision and political vision of reflection and action They take art in the broadest sense ranging over poets dramatists novelists essayists and filmmakers Their focus is on art and its political dilemmas not simply on the artist They consider the issues raised for politics and culture by alienation violence modernization technology democracy progress and revolution And they debate the capacity of art to stimulate social change and incite revolution the temptations of social control of culture and of political censorship the uncertain relationship between art and history the impact of economic structure on artistic creation and of economic class on artistic product the common ground between art and legislation and between creativity and control Catalog of Copyright Entries.
